GUNBOATS GO OVER TO REBELS

ADMIRAL BELIEVED TO BE HIDING IN SHANGHAI

Dispatches Report Capture of Peking—Chinese in Sa Francisco Celebrate

Shanghai, Nov. 6.—Three Chinese gunboats, forming a part of Admiral Sah Chen Ping's fleet, which put in here yesterday for provisions, went over to the rebels this morning.

The Chinese telegraph operators here went on a strike to-day. The cables have not been molested. Foreign mariners are guarding the cable houses.

It is believed that Admiral Sah is hiding in this city.

Ching Kiang in the province of Kiang Su, fell at 3 o'clock this afternoon. All is quiet there. The city is a treaty port, second in importance only to Shanghai. The population is about 150,000.

Shang Chow, the capital of the province of Che Kiang, was taken by the rebels yesterday after a brief but spirited encounter.

Manchu Princes Panic Stricken
Peking, Nov. 6.—Yuan Shi Kai still declines to accept the premiership, although assured of the support of the National Assembly and General Chang. In command of the Manchou troops. Both the assembly and General Chang, however, insist that when the parliament is elected the premier shall be chosen by that body.

Affairs are in a state of chaos. No tangible head of the government is visible.

The government needs funds and hopes that the Franco-Belgian loan will be forthcoming to enable military operations and war to be carried on. The international group refuses to supply war funds.

The government is urging the group to advance money in order to allay the threatened financial and public deadlock in Peking as it is feared that the non-circulation of money will cause serious hardships to the coolies and the lower classes, which possibly might lead to local disturbances.

The question of tangible securities appeared to be almost unresolvable, but the negotiations continue. The group insists that the funds be used for the purpose stated and suggests if completed the loan be handed over to the local Chinese chamber of commerce as was done at Shanghai in the recent crisis.

The third division of the army, stationed at Shang Hung Fu, is under orders to proceed to Lanchow, the government evidently hoping that the presence there of a loyal division will have an effect on General Chang's men. The transference of this division is now going on and the attitude of the men is eagerly awaited and it will probably turn the scales in Northern China.

General Wu Lu Cheng, governor-elect of Shan Si has informed the government that he can persuade the Shan Si rebels to accept the constitution, but it is feared that Wu Hsun is a revolutionist.

Reports from the forbidden city, show that the Manchou princes are in a pitiable state of fear and indecision. The total periodicals urge decisive measures which certainly will lead to the destruction of the loyalists. The presence of General Yuan Tehang, the ex-war minister, has a calming effect. Only the wise counsels of the old prince, Chang, have averted a panic and prevented a flight of the court or something worse.

Tien Tain is quiet, but 3,000 Manchou are held in readiness for any emergency.

Another edict has been issued containing instructions to the assembly to proceed with the election of a parliament and promising to recognize the revolutionary party.

According to reports from Chang Sa, six cities in Hunan province have revolted and it is expected the whole province will declare for the Republic.

Word has reached here that the rebels have taken Kiang Fu in South China and have issued passports to the missionaries.

A foreign traveller just returned from Shan Fu in Shan Hsi province reports that there is the wildest disorders there.

The rebels at Shan Fu assert that all the officials have been killed, as well as the Manchou men, women, and children.

According to reports, many have been killed at Hankow by the sword. There was also a meeting held to decide whether it was advisable to dissolve the assembly in view of the want of confidence shown by the Manchou troops and the provincial assembly.

The president pointed out that it would be impossible for the assembly to lay down its burden until parliament was ready to take it up. Finally the members agreed not to dissolve. The Peking chamber of commerce is organizing a commercial police force to protect property in the event of a rebellion breaking out in the capital.

Exodus From Peking
London, Nov. 6.—The Times Peking correspondent says: "There is no longer any doubt that Shanghai is the headquarters of the

RUSSIA SENDS ULTIMATUM TO PERSIA

Will Occupy Territory Unless Minister Apologizes for In- sult to Vice-Consul

Teheran, Nov. 6.—The Russian minister presented an ultimatum to the Persian government to-day, setting forth that unless the Persian minister of foreign affairs apologized for alleged insults to the Russian vice-consul, the seizure of the property of Shua-Es-Sultaneh, the removal of the treasury gendarmes and re-instatement of the Persian Cossacks formerly there, Russia would occupy the province of Ghilan and Masoderan, in the north of Persia.

The government has decided to comply with the Russian demand.

ITALIAN WARSHIPS SHELLED BY TURKS

BATTERY FIRES ON VESSELS AT TRIPOLI

Soldiers Shoot Down Many Persons While Searching for Arms

Tripoli, Nov. 6.—A Turkish battery took a position on the east front of Tripoli to-day and shelled the warships at anchor in the roadstead. At the same time the Arabs concealed in the palm groves opened fire on the Italians. The latter replied vigorously.

Turks Reinforced.
London, Nov. 6.—An American diplomat who arrived from Constantinople confirms the report of a recent improvement in the Turkish position at Tripoli, due to the arrival there of a large number of Turkish best army men. They reached the front by passing through Egypt.

Reign of Terror.
Malta, Nov. 6.—A wireless message received by her commander, Benton G. Becker, to-day, orders the American cruiser Chester to proceed to Tripoli forthwith.

Passengers arriving from Tripoli describe the situation as a reign of terror. Strong military patrols are continually conducting rigorous house-to-house searches, and on the smallest pretense summary punishment is meted out. Many victims have been shot in their own houses. In the absence of any attempt to discriminate between friend and foe, many foreigners have taken refuge in their respective consulates.

An order forbidding anyone to be out before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 6 o'clock in the evening has been strictly enforced. The Italian soldiers appear to have unlimited power, and the passengers say were shooting down men, women and children who disobeyed the order.

The reports also confirm the stories of the brutality displayed by the Italians in their treatment of the Arabs.

SCHOONER'S CREW RESCUED.

London, Nov. 6.—The British steamer Victorian, on her way from Galveston to Liverpool, sent a wireless message to-day saying she had on board the crew of the waterlogged schooner Steven G. Load of Thomaston, Maine.

BILL MINER IS AGAIN IN CUSTODY

Captured by Police in Box Car —Companion Killed While Resisting Arrest

Waynesborough, Georgia, Nov. 6.—Bill Miner, the notorious train robber and outlaw, who with a fellow convict named Tom Moore, escaped from a Georgian convict camp some weeks ago, has been captured and is once more in the clutches of the law.

The arrest of this much-wanted outlaw took place yesterday when Miner and Moore were located in a box car at the town of St. Clair.

The police have been on the trail of the fugitives for some days, but it was not until Saturday afternoon that the officers were able to get in touch with their quarry. The two men were located in a box car in the station yard. They got wind that the officers were close upon them, and although Miner did not offer any serious resistance, his pal, Moore, resisted arrest, with the result that he was shot and killed in the fight that ensued.

Miner will be taken back to the penitentiary to serve out his sentence for having been one of the principals in a train robbery and holdup within the borders of this state.

BISHOP OF YUKON ON HIS WAY HOME

DIOCESAN PROBLEMS IN FAR NORTHLAND

Bishop Stringer on a Visit to Victoria—A Trying Experi- ence in Missionary Work

Bishop Stringer, of the Yukon, arrived in the city on Saturday evening, and preached yesterday morning at Christ Church cathedral, and in the evening at St. John's church. His Lordship is en route to Dawson, where the headquarters of his vast diocese are situated, returning from the general synod of the Church of England in Canada held at London, Ont., in September.

Bishop Stringer, in addition to the diocese of the Yukon, is administering the northern half of the see of Mackenzie River, the bishop of Athabasca taking the southern portion during the vacancy in the episcopate. The result is that he has in charge several hundred Esquimaux and Indians of various states of nomadic tribes.

During his visit to the east he carried out a large amount of deputation work; for after all, as he says, the territory calls for more missionary than strict pastoral care, owing to its scattered character and the difficulty of reaching the people. In Ottawa he took up with the heads of the Department of the Interior the subject of the Alaska of reindeer, which are badly needed in the Yukon, and owing to the similarity of the physical conditions to those of the neighboring American territory will undoubtedly thrive and be of material assistance to the people of the country.

Another matter in which the bishop is interested himself was the extension of the wireless system in the far north, in order to put the residents and the police patrols in closer touch with the outer world. The appalling sense of loneliness of these far northern stations and towns can only be realized by those who have lived for months away from civilization.

Turning to the diocesan work Bishop Stringer says that the church has taken active steps in spreading education, and a boarding school is to be put into operation for both sexes, as well as day-schools in various parts of the diocese. The white residents are well received, and the sense of order is now fully observed throughout the country. So far as the position is concerned in regard to the aborigines, the bishop says the Esquimaux have become in 20 years a peaceful race of hunters, fished from their wild life. They congregate in villages along the Arctic ocean, where fur-bearing animals are to be taken, and move from place to place as their hunting demands. The Indians of the far north are, in his opinion, of a less high type of development than those of the reserves of the West Coast or Vancouver Island.

The bishop speaks as one who loves the wilderness, and remarks that he expects to stay by the country, which unfortunately so few do after they have made money. As one who has spent 19 years in the Yukon, and travels enormous distances to supervise his missionary clergy, he has had many interesting experiences.

Next year he contemplates a journey from Edmonton to the lower Mackenzie river, and then across the mountains into the Yukon. It was while making this trip previously that he nearly met with the same fate as befell the unfortunate Mounted Police patrol, and which drew the attention of the outer world to the dangers of the duties performed by those who bring the Gospel message or maintain law and order in the barren fastnesses of the Northland. He had started out from Fort MacPherson with an Indian and a white man named Johnson, rather later than usual in the fall, with the intention of reaching the Yukon river by way of the Bell, a tributary of the Porcupine, which itself flows into the Yukon river. They had not gone far when the Indian fell sick, and had to be returned to his friends, and this delay caused the loss of a week. The remaining two reached the divide between the waters flowing into the Arctic and the Pacific when they found themselves unable to proceed, and were practically prisoners in the mountains. In the fog and mist they pushed on, but, however, decided it would be impossible to make the Porcupine river, and so determined to return. For 28 days after catching the Peterborough and the bulk of their stores they worked their way backwards towards Fort MacPherson, and although not actually covering the trail which proved fatal to the Police Patrol, they were in as desperate straits, and were almost starved by the time they reached a friendly Indian encampment, and secured relief.

The bishop says it was his only experience of actually starving, and when they returned to the fort it required two weeks' rest and nursing before they could proceed. Even after this terrible experience the bishop recrossed the divide, picked up the articles he had cached en route, and ultimately reached Circle City, Alaska, where he was able to communicate with the outer world by wireless. His Lordship has experienced many other privations in carrying out his diocesan work.

Owing to the suspension of navigation on the Yukon, he will now have to proceed from Whitehorse to Dawson by sleigh, and will be leaving for the north as soon as he can complete his business. His Lordship is staying at the Dominion hotel.

REAPS BENEFITS OF LIBERAL POLICY

Monthly Statement Shows Fin- ances of Dominion Were Never in Better Shape

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Hon. W. T. White, finance minister, is reaping where he has sown. The finances of the Dominion, as shown by the monthly statement for October, were never in better shape and hon. Mr. Fielding has left his successor a surplus of probably $25,000,000 in sight for the end of the current fiscal year.

For the first seven months of the fiscal year the revenue has been $76,291,178, an increase of $10,476,292 over the corresponding period of last year; while expenditures show a decrease of $1,000,000 in both consolidated fund and capital accounts. The surplus of revenue over total expenditure for several months has been a little over $21,000,000. For October the revenue totalled $12,221,633, an increase of $2,555,461 over October last year. The revenue for the month is the largest on record. The net debt of the Dominion will be decreased by $3,244,844 during the month, and now stands at $315,593,924.

MRS. VERMILYA IS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Preliminary Hearing Held in Woman's Home—Sent to County Hospital

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Vermilya, charged with the murder of Policeman Arthur Bissonette, was formally placed under arrest to-day. She remained quiet in her bed during the preliminary hearing held in her home. The hearing was postponed until November 28 and she was ordered committed to the county hospital. The hearing was held in Mrs. Vermilya's home, owing to her illness. Municipal Judge Walker and the court witnesses crowded into the little bedroom. She manifested little interest in the proceedings, answering questions languidly.

Her alleged attempt at suicide, by sprinkling her room with an arsenical preparation, resembling pepper, convinced the police that she would be safer under their direct watch than in the hands of her friends. The officers decided to remove her to-day. Municipal Judge Walker, who issued the warrant for Mrs. Vermilya's arrest, consented to hold her in her room.

Polson is expected to be found in the viscera of Richard T. Smith, who died at the home of Mrs. Vermilya, as an announcement from Coroner Hoffman, who returned from North Henderson, where Smith's body had been exhumed. Coroner Hoffman said he would begin preparations at once for the exhumation of the body of Frank Brinkamp and her first husband, Charles Brinkamp.

Testimony from a new source was given the court to-day. Miss Elizabeth Nolan, who was Frank Brinkamp's sweetheart, said Brinkamp had feared he was being poisoned, that he thought his father, Charles Brinkamp, had been poisoned and wanted to investigate his death. Her testimony resulted in an announcement from Coroner Hoffman that he would exhum Frank Brinkamp's body at once.

Miss Nolan also brought the name of C. C. Roysen, an undertaker, into her story as having been a prospective husband of Mrs. Vermilya. A life insurance policy for $2,000 on Frank Brinkamp's life, she said, had been put into Roysen's hands to collect.

"She wanted to marry Roysen, but he would not marry her," said Miss Nolan. Miss Nolan also told the coroner that Undertaker Roysen had an insurance policy on Mrs. Vermilya's life and one on the life of Charles Brinkamp. She said the premiums on both policies which were made out to himself.

"Did Roysen call on Mrs. Vermilya?" she was asked.

"Yes, he took all his meals there from March until December, when he sailed for Europe. He finally broke away from her."

MINER OPENS FIRE ON TORMENTORS

ANOTHER DISTURBANCE IN STREETS OF FERNIE

Three Negroes Placed in Jail— Additional Provincial Con- stables on Duty

Fernie, B. C., Nov. 6.—The disturbances which created so much excitement here during the past week culminated in the worst demonstration yet seen in Fernie Saturday evening, when the mine train rolled into the yards from Coal Creek.

The object of the miners this time was the four negro miners who came down. These men had been working all week, but had not engaged the attention of the miners until Saturday. As they jumped from the train, the police were on the spot to protect them, and the crowd at once began to follow them down town, hooting and hallooing. Again stones were thrown by some, but no damage resulted. At the Roma hotel one of the colored men took refuge in his room and it was said he made threats to shoot, but this must have been an exaggeration. He afterwards promised not to return to work.

The other men continued towards their homes in the north end of the town, protected by the police and followed by the crowd. At one place one of the colored men suddenly turned upon his pursuers and opened fire with a revolver. The police being immediately behind him were in the most dangerous position, and stepped to get out of range. This made an opening and the men behind at once made a rush for the man with the gun, and when the police again got hold of him he had lost his gun and had been beaten by his tormentors.

Three of the negroes are now in the city jail, and the one who is said to have threatened to shoot at the Roma hotel, escaping from the police while being escorted to a place of safety, has fled from town.

Chief Inspector Colin Campbell has arrived from Vancouver, and eight or ten provincial constables are now here to reinforce those already on the ground.

Ellas Rogers, president of the C. N. P. C. Co., has returned to Fernie because of the serious condition prevailing.

The scales committee which has been at work at Fernie during the past week on Saturday adjourned until to-day, when the work will be resumed.

Everyone is anxiously looking for a favorable outcome as a result of this last effort at an agreement, and much relief is felt that the turbulence here and at Michel has not resulted in breaking off the negotiations.

Another Delay.

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—Conferences between operators and coal miners at Frank, Alta., adjourned to-day because of the threatening attitude of mine workers, who object to the importation of negro miners from the United States. There was incipient rioting to-day and serious disturbances were avoided only by the presence of police and provincial constables.

WOUNDED BY HOLD-UP MAN.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Charles Schultz, a baker, made good a boast last night that he would not be afraid to tackle an armed robber, and to-day lies perhaps fatally wounded in a hospital as a result.

Schultz had barely spoken the words when two highwaymen armed with revolvers walked into a Wentworth avenue saloon and ordered the baker, with several other men, to throw up their hands. "Get on your feet," Schultz sprang upon one of the thugs and tried to wrench the weapon from him. In the struggle that followed he was shot twice.

Schultz lives next door to the saloon. His wife, who heard the shots and ran to the place to see if her husband was wounded, was knocked down by one of the thieves, both of whom escaped.

THREE KILLED WHEN BRIDGE COLLAPSES

Five Others Sustain Injuries— Property Loss Placed at $25,000

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 6.—With a full accounting for all the workmen who were on the bridge of the Mountain Quarries Co., across the American river, which collapsed Saturday night, it was determined to-day that the total casualties from the accident is three dead and five injured. The wreckage has been cleared away.

The company estimates the loss from the collapse of the span at $25,000. Rebuilding will be commenced at once.

A night shift was at work on the bridge at the time of the accident. Ten men were working at the water's edge, building caissons. As the first warning of their danger they saw the superstructure sway for an instant, and then, as the supporting concrete pillars sagged and gave way, the great arch above came crashing down before a man could move.

Two of the workmen were swept into the river and out among the boulders and eddies of the stream. They fought their way across. The other eight were entombed in the debris.

STOLEN MONEY FOUND BY BOY

DISCOVERED IN RAVINE AT NEW WESTMINSTER

Lad Says He Gave Money to Bazik, Who is Now in Custody

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—A remarkable story told by George Lavery, an eleven-year-old newboy of New Westminster, has raised some doubt in police circles as to whether John Bazik, now under arrest, really had any connection with the robbery of the Bank of Montreal at Westminster. The boy tells that on the day after the robbery he found a package containing $5,000 in bills in the ravine under the Carnation street bridge and gave it to Bazik, receiving $4 for himself.

The boy's story as told by him to Manager Brymner of the Bank of Montreal, is as follows:

On the day after the robbery the lad's father, Eugene Lavery, planned to go to Seattle and the boy, knowing his father would be absent, decided to play truant. He knew of an ideal place—the ravine—and there he went. As he was passing under the bridge he came upon a neat parcel and tearing it open was astonished at the amount of money it contained.

He did not connect his find with the bank robbery, but decided to give it to his father and hurried off to give it to him at the station before the latter boarded the train.

On his way he met Bazik, whom he knew as a seller of papers in the city, and told him of his find. Bazik took the boy to his room and relieved him of the money. He gave the lad $4, making him promise not to say anything of his find. The lad spent the $4 for a pair of shoes and kept his promise faithfully till Saturday, when the story of Bazik's arrest became public property. Then he told the story of his find to his father and the father made him repeat it to the bank manager.

The ravine, which is thirty feet deep under the bridge, is an ideal place for the concealment of stolen property. The sides are precipitous and few persons except boys playing truant ever enter it. The spot where the boy picked up the package is not more than half a block from where the workmen found the gold and bills under the sidewalk last week.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—E. Dickenson, aged 55, of 5501 Latona avenue, was struck by the Green Lake car Saturday night at Ward and Westlake avenues. He died in the ambulance on the way to Seattle General hospital.

Motorman Schilts said he saw Dickenson's car ahead of him a few yards ahead of the car. He says the man staggered and made no effort to get out of the way. The distance was too short, Schilts said, to bring his car to a stop. Dickenson had not reached the middle of the track and the car struck him on the head, throwing him aside. The only injuries found on the body were about the head.

MASQUE BALL AT PENDER ISLAND.

One of the most charming and enjoyable social events that the people have been favored with on Pender Island took place on October 31st (Hallowe'en) in the Recreation hall, Mrs. T. Yielding being the hostess. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and autumnal tints, foliage, interspersed with Chinese lanterns, and the gaily and quaintly dressed masqueraders tripping about presented a most pleasing picture. The hostess herself looked charming as "Gypsy Queen." The following is a list of the masqueraders: Britannia, Miss Bryant; a rare old Irish gentleman, W. ## SEATTLE MASONS VISIT VICTORIA

Representative Gathering in Honor of Visitors at Dinner and Degree Conferring

The past week-end was a notable one for Victoria Masons insofar as it afforded them an opportunity of witnessing at first hand the conferring of the third degree as practised by their brethren from across the line, a distinguished contingent of whom, from the city of Seattle, were the guests of Victoria-Columbia lodge, No. 1. The delegation, which was representative of St. John's Masonic lodge, Seattle, consisted of between thirty and forty members, and was headed by Worshipful Master Dr. J. W. Thomas. Some thirty-five ago Victoria-Columbia lodge visited the Seattle lodgemen, and the present week-end trip was the counter courtesy to that occasion.

On Saturday evening, which was scheduled for the function, local Masons took advantage of the occasion to the full, with the result that the Masonic Temple on Douglas street was crowded to the limit. Fully three hundred members were in the hall when the visitors put on the third degree in the manner practised in the state of Washington. Needless to say, the sight was an object lesson, and as such was greatly appreciated. Later in the evening, when the business part of the visit was over, the guests sat down to the splendid dinner which had been provided for them.

Worshipful Master Stephen Jones presided over the gathering, which proved to be as jovial in spirit as it was in fact. The meal was punctuated by a series of fraternal speeches, inspired by the spirit of brotherliness and unity of purpose, and an equally hearty series of enlightening toasts. On behalf of the visitors, Worshipful Master Thomas expressed his thanks for the great hospitality that had been shown him and his fellow Masons.

The gathering at dinner was remarkable in its representativeness, a large number of provincial and other masters being present. In the opinion of many the gathering represented a record in this respect. Yesterday afternoon the party foregathered again in the private dining room of the Dominion hotel, where Worshipful Master Jones entertained them at his private board. On this occasion the number was swelled by the inclusion of the worshipful masters and wardens of the city and Esquimalt lodges, who had been invited to meet the visitors from the other side. Another enjoyable repast was had, at the conclusion of which thanks were again returned. The Seattle visitors left for home on the afternoon boat yesterday.

THIS PROVINCE WINS STILLWELL TROPHY

Potatoes of British Columbia
Compete With Those of Whole Continent

The following telegram was received by W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, on Saturday afternoon: "British Columbia won Stillwell trophy, Eugene Grubb, Agriculturist of Colorado, judge." By winning the Stillwell trophy and $1,000 at the great Pan-American exhibition at Madison Square Gardens, New York, British Columbia has earned the reputation of growing the best potatoes on the North American continent. The exhibit which gained this award consisted of 101 varieties drawn from all sections of the province, aggregating in weight about one and a half tons.

The entire province was scoured to secure the finest specimens and W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, and those who assisted him in the task, deserve the highest credit for the new honor which they have won for the province. The exhibit was in charge of Anabel Smith, the "potato king" of British Columbia, who took with him to New York as assistants in charge of the display Stuart Wade, New Westminster's publicity agent, and H. McCune Johnson, Vernon.

SUNDAY SACRED CONCERT.

First of Winter Series Proved Successful
Beyond Criticism.

The first of the series of Sunday sacred concerts inaugurated by Rev. Sidney Lindridge was held yesterday afternoon in the New Empire theatre, and was an unqualified success, both in point of the numbers in attendance and the excellence of the musical programme rendered. The concert lasted just an hour and consisted of four orchestral selections, two sacred hymns, a ten-minute address by Rev. Sidney Lindridge and an exceedingly well rendered violin sacred solo.

Rev. Mr. Lindridge explained at the outset that the object of the concerts is to afford a clean, inspiring and helpful hour of enjoyment for those in the city who, because of responsibilities or untimely attachment to organized religious bodies, do not ordinarily avail themselves of the institutions calculated to reach their better natures. In introducing the hymns he said that there is an element in every man which turns toward the light and reverence of religion, and while it was with no desire to obtrude religion upon those in attendance that hymns were introduced, he felt sure that to leave them out would be to leave the programme incomplete in one of its most essential and appreciable features.

The heartiness with which these remarks were received, as well as the enthusiasm with which the hymns were sung by the whole audience, proved that to have omitted them would have been a serious mistake.

The orchestral music was furnished by the Ciel Club, an amateur association of more than a dozen performers. When Rev. Mr. Lindridge expressed the opinion during an interlude—that their devotion to this work called for a demonstration of the appreciation of the audience, he was gratified by such expression in unmistakable terms. The Ciel Club may readily lay the flattering unction to their souls that in rendering this voluntary service they are conferring a real and lasting benefit upon the community.

In his address, the subject of which was education, Mr. Lindridge declared that education in reality means much more than the acquisition of knowledge or the completion of a curriculum at school. He made very clear that the institution of immortality is irrepressibly present in the consciousness of everyone and that the value of immortality to the soul is dependent upon character. In the educative processes and experiences of life the best is attained when the reacting influences affect the character for its betterment, and that these influences and experiences should so react, he declared, was a matter which each might determine for himself. If the aim and direction of life, he argued, were toward the building and ennobling of character the eternity of results must be favorable to the individual. That there might be brought into the lives of those present such elevating and ennobling influences, he said, was the object of these Sunday afternoon concerts.

Rev. Mr. Lindridge is a terse speaker and thoughtful reasoner, and the attention paid to his remarks in his brief address attested the great value which may attach to these afternoon meetings.

The offering which the people were permitted to give—expended—was just as an offering. It was not to be understood as a charge, but he felt that those who would come from time to time to the concerts would feel more interest in their tribute something toward defrayal of the expenses incident to the concerts. Their contributions would reduce somewhat the amount necessary to carry on the work, and which is now being supplied from private sources.

The commendations of the departing gathering gave assurance that in instituting this series of concerts Mr. Lindridge has conferred a distinct favor on the community. They will be continued throughout the winter months.

PASSING SHOW

Majestic Theatre.

"The Wealthy Widow" at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday is a winner, and worth a pile. She gets them coming and going. "Fanny," the fat rascal, is the favorite. Pickwick's injunction, "Samuel, Beware of the Widows," could not be better illustrated than it is in the picture. It will be one of the four star features at the Majestic today and to-morrow. "His Misjudgment," from Purple and Fine Linen, is a beautiful story of a woman's self-sacrifice. The paralyzed husband's cure through fright when a curtain blown by the wind has knocked over a lamp, and his beautifully furnished room is in flames, is not made so convincing as his distress at what he thinks is his wife's selfish devotion to social pleasure. It is worth seeing. "Dan the Dandy," is a biography. "Broncho Bill's Last Spree," one of the famous "Snakeville" comedies, and one of the best of the entire series.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

There are dreams one forgets with the head but remembers with the heart. The details of them leave us. It all is confused, blurred in the memory, as if clouds had grouped to form some clear picture, and had instantly been blown all a-whirl and at-angle by the wind. But the dream stays on in the air of the heart. Perhaps it was sad, all night we waded through heart-breaking; and in the morning, though the pictures and words are gone, the dream of them remain, and at no time of the day are we very far from weeping. Perhaps it was glad, and though we cannot remember the melody we sang in the dream, echoes of it keep falling all through the hours of waking.

"It is as though the soul had found, somewhere in the bounds of darkness, a secret pool of emotion, had fallen therein, and come to the gates of morning dripping wet with some unknown feeling. We might make more allowance for what souls do when awake, if we knew whether they had fared and what they had suffered in the caverns of sleep. Sometimes one is silent because he is full of these unspeakable memories, and words seem profane. Then he knows what the philosopher (Publius Syrus) meant: "Vel taceas, vel meliora dic silentio—Keep still, or say something better than silence."

McNAMARA TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Only five men out of the fourth venire drawn in the McNamara murder trial presented excuses Saturday, pleasing Judge Bordwell in his preliminary examination. One of these, Harry Chandler, son-in-law of General Harrison Gray Otis, proprietor of the Los Angeles Times, was excused only temporarily.

The court not being in regular session, James B. McNamara, defendant, on trial for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist killed in the Los Angeles Times explosion a year ago, was not brought over from the jail. Fifteen on the venire of forty were not found, so that twenty veniremen remain for service. This is about the usual proportion.

MAY ATTEMPT LONG FLIGHT

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 6.—Harry N. Atwood, the aviator who made a world's record flight last summer, was not brought over from the jail. Fifteen on the venire of forty were not found, so that twenty veniremen remain for service. This is about the usual proportion.

KILLING OF ARABS BY ITALIANS

MASSACRES UNDER GENERAL'S SANCTION

Soldiers Shoot Down All They Suspect of Having Borne Arms

London, Nov. 6.—"Munchausen in his palmy days," many have written half as many falsehoods and misrepresentations as have appeared in the Italian press and in the official statement issued by the Italian government," telegraphs the correspondent of Reuters Telegram Company at Tripoli, who arrived at Malta. From Malta he was able to send an uncorrupted message which contains a pessimistic description of the condition of the Italian army around what he terms the beleaguered city of Tripoli. He says:

"To sum up the results of the campaign: The Italians hold, with nearly twice as many men, half the ground that they held three weeks ago. They have lost in killed and wounded, not counting the sick, well over 1,000 men. Many Arabs have been killed and vast numbers shot in cold blood. Now 25,000 soldiers find themselves with their backs to the sea, cramped and confined, with a hostile enemy within a few yards of them, and with the cholera raging among them; for, despite official efforts to conceal the truth, there have been many cases among the troops and the civil population suffering so much that whole streets in Tripoli have been closed by armed sentries. There has been no disgrace. On the contrary, the Italian troops fought with great courage, and their officers set a noble example."

The correspondent says of the engagement of October 26: "Far from being a decisive victory, the fight nearly ended in disaster, and would have had the enemy had a few thousand more at our point instead of a few hundred. The Italian line was broken in two places by less than 200 Arabs, who had reached the cover of the residential oasis, thus placing themselves between the town and the line of defense. The situation was saved only by a gallant charge of 100 dismounted cavalry, who lost heavily, but managed to kill off a majority of the storming party."

"Thirty Arabs held out for three days in a house in the oasis and could not be dislodged until the building was blown up by mines. If they had been several thousand strong instead of two hundred, the Arabs would have Tripoli completely at their mercy."

General Caneva, commanding the Italian forces, according to the correspondent, became so alarmed that he abandoned all the outer works south-east of the city, including the strong Turkish fort Meiri. The whole army worked feverishly strengthening a new position with barbed wire entanglements, and were kept under arms during the night. The Arabs have advanced their artillery and are shelling the Italians. One shell dropped into General Caneva's headquarters. The foreign military attaches have been kept aboard a boat and not permitted to land, the explanation given being that it would be too dangerous for them to go ashore.

The Turks and Arabs, the correspondent says, hold the oasis, which is 15 miles long, and from two to five miles deep, where they can subsist on dates and olives until April, meantime harassing the Italians by nightly raids. There are no signs of any preparations on the part of the Italians to advance.

The correspondent describes the spirit of the invading army as demoralized. The men expected a short and sharp campaign, instead they are lying in trenches with sandstorms blowing over or rains soaking them, with continual night alarms.

They are disgusted with the war and hate the country. They long to return home.

The dispatch continues: "For four days after the engagement of October 23 the Italian soldiers engaged in indiscriminate slaughter of the Arab population under General Caneva's sanction. Caneva first issued a general order to shoot all Arabs found with arms, but only when caught by troops in charge of officers. The troops complained that numbers of Arabs had hidden their arms and resumed work as husbandmen. Thereupon General Caneva issued another order to shoot all Arabs who could reasonably be suspected of having borne arms."

"The blood of the men was up, naturally, and as they had seen their comrades shot from behind, and it is reported, even mutilated, though it is impossible to ascertain the truth. With their excited temperament and highly developed imagination, the Italians suspected every living soul of guilt, and for four days gangs of soldiers, often without officers, shot every one they encountered."

The correspondent gives instances witnessed by himself and his colleagues and there follow signed statements by the latter. These statements are beginning to excite Europe.

"The troops," adds the correspondent, "made a clean sweep of that portion of the oasis in which they were fired upon from the rear, although there is no connection between the two events."

NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH IN FIRE

Inmates of Wesleyan Mission at Hankow Driven Out by Flames

Hankow, via Hupeh, Nov. 6.—Members of the Wesleyan mission, the patients and the blind boys who are under the care of the mission, escaped death by a narrow margin in the fire which destroyed a large part of the native city of Hankow.

The inmates of the mission, numbering 300, spent the night on the lawn terrified by the whistling shells and rattle of rifles. They are all now housed in the London mission.

Peking, Nov. 6.—The situation in China is becoming more complex, if not more serious, every day. A week ago co-operation was suspected between Yuan Shi Kai and the national assembly. It is now evident, however, that all elements have up to the present no connection whatever. The whole movement is a spontaneous uprising against old corrupt methods, and the fact that foreigners have not been attacked indicates that the desire for genuine reform is sincere.

It was reported Saturday night that the national assembly, at a secret session, decided to resign in a body, owing to protests telegraphed to Peking by many of the provincial assemblies, objecting that a provisional body should assume authority to draft a constitution, which should be the work of a duly elected parliament. It is stated that General Li Yuen Heng and other rebel leaders, who do not recognize the Peking government, decline also to recognize the powers of the national assembly in conjunction with the efforts of the throne and Yuan Shi Kai, now their military opponent and premier-elect, towards a settlement.

The third army division which has been stationed at Chang Fu, and the twentieth at Mukden, are being mobilized at Lanchow, with troops already there, ostensibly for the formation of a second army to be used by Yuan Shi Kai. But seemingly Yuan Shi Kai does not intend to fight, nor does the so-called second army intend to proceed to Hankow. Its objective point is believed to be Peking. It is only necessary to threaten the capital in order to obtain concessions. Those of the past few days, but new edicts will not satisfy Chang Shao Teen and his army, wavering.

SONGHEES PARK BY-LAW.

Notwithstanding the fact that it has been made very clear to the city council that forty-three acres and a stretch of waterfront on the Songhees Reserve rightfully belongs to the city of Victoria, that honorable and august body persists in setting before the electors a by-law to authorize it to spend $50,000 of the people's money in acquiring less than one-third of what they already own. The Times has requested the members of the council to explain to the ratepayers how they justify this procedure and to take the people into their confidence as to the method of calculation by which they have arrived at the price they ask the ratepayers to authorize in payment of this land. No explanation has been vouchsafed beyond the statement of the Mayor that he regrets the haste with which the by-law is being rushed through and hopes that the government will reconsider the deal and treat the city as generously as it did Vancouver in an entirely dissimilar case.

It has been stated that the excuse of Premier McBride for not carrying out his pledge to the city of Victoria is that Hon. William Templeman and Mr. Ralph Smith interfered with his bargain at Ottawa and that he had to pay much more for the reserve than he had at first intended to pay. This statement is about as foul a slander as it is possible for any of Mr. McBride's organs to conceive. Yet Mr. McBride maintains such organs to do the kind of work which his other organs—more pretentious of respectability—would be ashamed to do. And these organs, maintained as they are by the Premier for this very purpose, may always be depended upon to stoop to the basest calumnies when it is necessary to cover up the malfeasances of Mr. McBride.

Whatever pledges Mr. McBride made to the city of Victoria have nothing whatever to do with the bargain he made with the Dominion government nor with the terms upon which he secured control of the Songhees Reserve. That bargain was explicit and the order-in-council conveying the property which was made a part of his bargain is incorporated in the memorandum of the deal with the Dominion government. If Mr. McBride had to pay more for the reserve than he expected the members of the government representing British Columbia are to be commended for protecting the federal treasury from the looting designs of Mr. McBride.

Not even that is germane to the case. A bargain is a bargain, and the bargain made by Mr. McBride distinctly stipulated that forty-three acres of the reserve should accrue to the city of Victoria. If there could be any justification for his present refusal to carry out his pledge, we may feel assured that such justification would have been represented by his responsible organs and not that a politician's excuse would be offered by an irresponsible sheet. Had Mr. McBride been a principal in negotiations of the same kind with a private trust and had he so deliberately violated his trust we think that action would be for recovery in the courts. And we do not see that because the bargain involves the rights of a corporation the case can be made to appear differently.

It is not the duty of the city council to aid and abet Mr. McBride in breaking a solemn bargain. Yet this is exactly what it is now doing in asking the ratepayers to vote money for the purchase of this land. Once the city purchases any portion of this land its claim to any consideration will be forfeited and it will have no recourse in the courts for the recovery of its rights. We need not trespass upon the probabilities when we say that this is probably what Mr. McBride aims at in his determination to have the by-law submitted.

We think the duty of the city council is clear, and that that duty is to recall the by-law and take action to establish the city's claim to that part of the reserve set apart and designated in the bargain with the federal government as the property of the city of Victoria. If any equity obtains by reason of a previous bargain—we do not think there does—then that equity should be ascertained before Mr. McBride secures an abandonment of the rights of the city by the submission of a by-law to purchase.

We have but one counsel for the ratepayers in this connection. If the city council maintains its reticence and refuses to take the ratepayers into its confidence, the by-law should be overwhelmingly defeated.

We will go even further than this, and suggest that the mayoralty be contested next year on the strength of the city's claim to this land. No man has a right to ask the suffrages of the ratepayers who enters or is willing to enter into bargain with the provincial government for the looting of the treasury of the city. However desirable the securing of this particular plot of land may be for park purposes, the transaction is such that a principle is involved and this paper would have the citizens stand firm and assert their rights. The man who will undertake to lead them in a contest of this kind will have the unqualified support of all the ratepayers who are not so party-bound that they will sacrifice the money of the city in a deal which bears upon its face the marks of a grave injustice to the people.

The attempt to treat the people of Victoria with contempt in a matter involving—at the lowest estimate—the sum of $50,000, is too callous to be allowed to pass and a day of reckoning should be on the memory tablets of all who desire justice from those in authority.

TIME'S REVENGE.

Time takes his revenge as well as some other things, and revenge, when Time takes it, is sweet because it often has the added quality of humor. A case-in-point is suggested by the announcement in a morning paper that Hon. Col. Sam Hughes has decided to outfit the local forces of garrison and volunteer artillery with "Ross rifles, mark 3, double star." Those who are familiar with the history of the Ross rifle know that during several sessions of parliament after its introduction Sir Frederick Borden, who was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Minister of Militia, was subjected to the most violent and unprincipled abuse by the Tory opposition. At the session of 1908 almost a whole week was spent by the members of the opposition in condemning the Ross rifle and the government adopting it. It was charged that there was graft in connection with the contracts let to the Canadian firm which manufactures the gun, and, more than this, that the gun was worthless and never could be made serviceable to the militia. It was hysterically stated that the Ross rifle was more dangerous to those using it than it could ever be to an enemy and that it was liable to explode at every discharge to the fatal injury of the helpless soldiers upon whom its use had been inflicted by an allegedly corrupt administration.

Now that the Conservative government is in power the rifle is quite good enough to be made the subject of laudation because it is to be furnished in the equipment of the forces at the coast. It might reasonably be expected that a province returning a solid seven in favor of the government in power should not have such malevolent retribution visited upon its soldiers as the infliction of the Ross rifle.

As the term of the new government progresses there will be many opportunities of discovering how insincere and hypocritical its members were while they sat at the left of the Speaker. In everything but the carrying out of the Laurier naval policy the new government has shown itself incompetent to improve upon the methods of the past, and now that it is in power nearly everything that was criticized to the point of obstruction in the House of Commons has been found to be just the right thing to do. One can imagine what a fine holiday Sir Wilfrid and the members of the opposition will have when they face the present incumbents of office with quotations from Hansard and unmask their hypocritical folly in the long and weary days they spent condemning what they now find themselves without sufficient ingenuity or talent to improve. The heroic men who will be provided with the "Ross rifle, mark 3, double star," should have a care. If it was dangerous under the old regime it may be even more spiteful now.

One cannot help admiring the enterprise displayed in filling three columns of a Sunday paper with reports of what Hon. Sam Hughes did not say.

They are still talking and writing on annexation in Toronto and Montreal, but it is only the annexation of suburbs that trouble these cities now. There is no serious thought of annexing the United States.

Comment is made upon the fact that Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, though but a month in office, has come "three thousand miles" to inspect the affairs of the department over which he presides. The only other time Hon. Sam found it convenient to visit British Columbia was when he came west at the expense of the Orange Grand Lodge of Canada. Doubtless he was so charmed with the salubrious climate of the coast that, now he is a government minister and can go where he likes, he lost no time in revisiting this delightful country.

The news that Esquimalt is to be rehabilitated as a first-class naval base will have a reassuring effect upon those Tory voters of Victoria who had begun to fear that there is not going to be any Canadian navy. The government cannot scarcely be expected to spend two or three million dollars on Esquimalt unless there is going to be a national navy and the assurance that Esquimalt is to be revived and placed on its former Imperial footing is a guarantee that everything else will be well done. Mr. G. H. Barnard will now be able to sleep without nightmare of fear of the political boss who says if he does not make good and deliver a couple of warships for the Pacific squadron he need never expect to be re-elected.

It is estimated that a single referendum at a municipal election costs about $600, and proportionately less with each referendum submitted, but the convenience of shifting the responsibilities of deciding on a troublesome measure to the shoulders of the ratepayers is too tempting for some of the members of the Victoria City Council, who see in the reference to the people a way out of difficult situations. A clear example of this timidity was shown last Friday evening when it was suggested to refer the proposal of limiting the dimensions of signs overhanging the streets to the people, the simple reason being that the petitioners against the council taking action are influential ratepayers who it is unwise to offend. What a delightful weapon to avoid the pitfalls of representative government is this boonful institution of reference to the people on matters which affect conflicting interests!

That there are two sides to any question, and that the public is not always a safe guide in case of a referendum to decide what is right, is urged by the New York Sun. The other day it presented an illustration of the operation in practice of the referendum, as follows:

("Matthew, chap. xxvii.)

"Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let Him be crucified."

"And the governors said, Why, what evil hath He done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let Him be crucified."

"When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person; see ye to it."

The Sun makes no comments. The suggestive extract is left to the consideration of the reader. Has Canada a Pontius Pilate?

The Colonist quotes with approval a statement made by Hon. Robert Rogers, the new Minister of the Interior, on the policy of turning over the crown lands to the Prairie Provinces. He said: "The people of the province (Alberta) have been putting themselves on record as being opposed to controlling their own resources. Until they show in some way that they want this control nothing is likely to be done." The policy of provincial control of crown lands is the policy of the Hon. R. L. Borden, who declared it from every platform during his political tour last summer. Mr. Rogers repudiates the policy of his leader. The great issue at the last election in Alberta was "reciprocity," for which the people voted. "Until they vote for our government," Mr. Rogers says in his own brutal way, "nothing is likely to be done."

The French barque Chateaubriand, from Glasgow for San Francisco, which arrived at Hobart on August 23, while anchoring in Variety Bay, lost an anchor and cable. The vessel proceeded September 1, having two spare anchors.

One shilling per acre was a fair rent for land in the reign of Henry VIII.

REV. A. J. PINEO IN CHARGE OF CHURCH

Former Victorian Inducted Into Pastorate of Winnipeg Unitarian Congregation

On Wednesday evening last Rev. Albert J. Pineo was inducted into the pastorate of All Souls Unitarian church, Winnipeg, which had been without a pastor for many months. Mr. Pineo, who was for several years science master in the high school here, and who for two years past has been preaching to the Unitarian congregations here and in Vancouver, was recently ordained to the ministry.

The regular induction ceremony of the Unitarian church was performed in the Icelandic church on Sherbrooke street, Winnipeg, the Rev. Frank W. Pratt, of Calgary, officiating, assisted by the Rev. G. Arnason, pastor of the Icelandic church, and the Rev. Peterson, superintendent of Icelandic missions. Mr. Pineo was welcomed by the Winnipeg officials, and the new pastor on behalf of the church.

Mr. Puttee said that a regrettable feature of most churches was the attitude of sharp aloofness with which they regarded all social problems. They seemed to think their duty done, if they performed the office of an ambulance corps to wounded in the tooth and claw battle of modern commercialism. They thought it no part of their task to understand the causes of existing evils. He hoped and believed that the new pastor would take a higher view of his work.

Mr. Pineo, in replying, said in part, "Eighteen years ago, I passed through Winnipeg on my westward journey. I remained here a few days and made some little study of conditions here at that time. I spent hours in the railroad depot—only a fraction of the size of the one you now have; and I saw a great onrush of human life as it came to this city from the old, old world and spread itself out into the surrounding country."

"I thought of the great problem of the future," Winnipeg then had a population of 30,000. Now it has five times as much, and from what I now see of Winnipeg, I know that the problems have greatly increased since I was here last time."

"I have again spent time at the depot, and have again seen the onrush of old world immigration—ten times the volume of eighteen years ago. Winnipeg to-day is not only the gateway of the great northwest, it is the pivotal point of this great Canada of ours, and it seems to me that there is much of interest to the man who is interested in nation-building. He may see in its raw state the material that is being used to build up a nation that in the days to come may be the greatest factor for good among the nations of the earth."

"It is because the problem of uplifting and educating these new people fascinates and assures me, that I have come to Winnipeg to take up the work. I am glad to be here."

"These people are coming to our country seeking for freedom, political, economic and social. They have come from the cramped, restricted conditions of the old world, expecting to find here, not only freedom of occupation, but freedom of life and thought, and freedom from the old traditions. It is ours to point the way. This is our opportunity. It is to this task that I have come."

Crimean Medal.—J. A. Barlow, 356 Twelfth street, Oakland, Cal., writes that while on a recent trip to Truckee, Cal., he came across a Crimean medal which has been picked up there and which evidently had belonged to a Scotchman who had been through the Crimea. It was engraved with the name of J. Melvor.

Call For War Veterans.—All officers, non-commissioned officers and men who have fought for their country are earnestly requested to attend the monthly meeting of the 24th Company Imperial War Veterans Brigade, at the city hall to-night at 8 o'clock when very important business will be transacted.

China Missionary.—Rev. Dr. Campbell has received word from the Presbyterian missionary committee of Toronto, asking him to intercept Rev. Mr. Hattie, who was to sail to-morrow for China on the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sado Maru. The mission fears that it would be unwise for their missionary to enter the country until the present excited condition of China has subsided.

EFFECTIVE RESULT OF PUBLICITY WORK

What Vancouver Island Development League is Doing to Settle Up the District

The Vancouver Island Development League will be able to report a satisfactory business record when the annual meeting is called at an early date this month. The advertising in outside papers has been well distributed, and the results from all parts of the world are surprising.

The inquiries may be divided into four classes in summarizing their requirements: Firstly, clerks, artisans and shopmen, who are tired of the competition of large cities in the old world, and the eastern portion of the United States; secondly, capitalists and manufacturers looking for fresh fields to conquer in new lands, taking a rapid development such as British Columbia is to-day; thirdly, army and navy men seeking a quiet and cheap country where they can spend the autumn of their years, and bring up their families respectfully; and, lastly, farmers and agriculturists of different types who wish to take up land on the Pacific coast where they do not have to undergo the same distressing physical conditions as prevail in the western prairies on each side of the forty-ninth parallel.

The first class is mainly drawn from the United Kingdom, and are the least easy to assimilate for the simple reason that the market for their labor is overstocked, and rapidly as the country is growing, there is not the chance for them to secure work that they have in large industrial communities.

The capitalists and manufacturers approach the country from another standpoint. They want expanding investment where seven and eight per cent. can be made on money, and where a tariff will give them that compulsory market which they desire for a sale of their products. Particularly since the British government has adopted the principle of taxation on land values the capitalists are putting their money into British Columbia industries. The amount of American capital also invested in this province is enormous, particularly in lumber, and the inquiries from this class are very large.

The third section is that of men who have served the empire on the frontiers and having saved some small means of competence are anxious to find a home for the remainder of their days. The attractions of the inland spas and watering places which used to be associated with this class have ceased to fascinate, and they want homes where they can give their sons and daughters a change. Inquiries have reached the league from the Sudan, Baluchistan, the West Indies and Burma, recently, from men shortly to retire from the services who are in a strait between several opinions where they will ultimately settle.

The fourth class is that of the farmers who are dissatisfied with conditions on the prairies, and wish to settle in an easier climate such as this coast affords. The flow of families from the prairies continues in increasing volume each year, and not only from the class who have made money, and wish to spend it, but from the section of people who are still in the bloom of youth and activity, who want land, and will endure the inevitable hardships of the pioneer if they can live in a climate where the earth gives up its yield without the appalling cold of the prairie plateau.

Therefore the Development League, as the chief island publicity association, has before it a large amount of work, which has been well done in the two and a half years of its existence, with remarkable freedom from com-

In Canadian financial circles it is clearly recognized from end to end of the Dominion that among the old-established financial institutions of Canada The Mutual Life of Canada not only stands in the very front rank, but its record for the past 40 years is without parallel.

In the 40 years of the company's existence not a dollar of loss has occurred on its investments while the interest receipts alone have been more than sufficient to pay all death claims during the entire period of the company's existence, and out of the many millions of profits earned, every dollar has been for the policyholders, to whom all profits are paid.

SURPRISES COME IN SOCCER GAMES

SONS OF ENGLAND WON THEIR FIRST VICTORY

James Bays Defeated Wards
—Second Division and Junior League Results

The results of Saturday's senior soccer matches are of more than ordinary interest inasmuch as they were so unexpected. The Sons of England, with the kindly assistance of the "fickle goddess," who smiled very propitiously upon them during the entire session, broke their losing streak by routing the soldier boys, 2 to 0, and the James Bays beat the Wards, the odd point in a game in which nine goals were scored.

In the second division series, also, surprises were the order. The Wests, who have been burning up the ground in their run for the championship, tripped and fell all over themselves, the obstruction being the Garrison. In the meantime the Wards, by holding their opponents, the Foresters, to a draw, slipped into the front and now lead the green-shirts by one point. The scores in these games were, respectively, 3-1 and 1-1.

The High School eleven, winners of last year's junior championship, are slumping badly this season. They went down to their second defeat on Saturday before the Wards, the final score being 2 goals to 1.

S. O. E. vs. Garrison.
The Garrison have been touted as a possible winner in the senior league and the odds were considered to be very much in their favor when they took the field against the lowly Sons of England at the Royal Athletic park. Great was the surprise of the spectators, therefore, when after a bitterly fought struggle the Sons departed victors by a 2-0 score.

The first half of the game was not particularly interesting. The advantage lay with the soldiers, whose attacks were more systematic than those of the Sons. Stevens and Buxton, the Garrison right wing, made several fine runs and centred in nicely, but all attempts to beat Loveridge were useless. Towards the end of the half, Pickering and Douglas, of the Sons, took the ball down the field and the former hooked it into the net from what seemed an almost impossible angle.

In the second period the game lived up considerably, the Garrison playing fast and aggressively and the Sons working like Trojans to maintain their lead. So stubborn was the defence of the latter that the soldiers were repeatedly driven back when seemingly nothing could prevent them from scoring an equalizing goal. During the greater part of the half the Garrison had the play in the Sons' territory, but occasionally the S. O. E. wings broke away and dribbled the ball the whole length of the field. One of these runs was productive of a goal, Thackeray taking a pass from "Pincher" Martin and beating Beane with a shot, which so completely fooled him that he made no attempt to save.

The remainder of the game was as farce as an exhibition of football. The soldiers were discouraged and "sore" and, although they fought bitterly enough, it was more for the man than the ball.

Taking everything into consideration the Sons deserved their victory. They were outplayed as a team the most of the time and only the break of luck and the sensational work of Loveridge in goal saved them, but nevertheless they were entitled to win by virtue of the fact that they played football all the time while some of their opponents at times apparently forgot there was such a thing as a ball on the field and devoted their attention to fierce rushes upon their checks.

The introduction of rough tactics by the soldiers towards the end of the game was, no doubt, the result of a natural exasperation at their inability to prevent defeat by an inferior team. However, it was a case of "hoist by his own petard," for it lost them whatever chance they had of winning out. In justice to the Sons of England it must be mentioned that their inferiority, although apparent, was very slight.

and might reasonably be accounted for by the fact that the men do not know each other as well as they should. The team is just newly formed and in that is at a disadvantage when playing against aggregations like the Garrison, Wards or Wests, most of whose men have been playing together for years.

That the Sons have some good individual players is undisputed, and with a little more experience in each other's company these men are going to make their team a strong factor in the senior league.

Loveridge in goal is a wonder if he can keep up the form he played in Saturday. Time after time his brilliant blocking prevented goals which seemed assured. His only weakness was in clearing. Douglas, Pickering and Thackeray were the best of the forwards and Waring the most prominent of the halves. Hymers and Perry, the backs, were both good, although their kicking was a little weak.

In the ranks of the Garrison Stevens and Buxton, at outside right, were easily the most useful of the forwards, while Wylie, at centre half, was a tower of strength. It was an off-day for Gale, who is generally the mainstay of the team. The backs hardly played up to their usual form either.

The teams follow:
Sons of England: Goal, Loveridge; full-backs, Hymers and Perry; half-backs, Waring, Kelsall, C. Martin; forwards, J. Martin, Thackeray, Wedgewood, Pickering and Douglas.
Garrison: Goal, Beane; full-backs, Elton and Jones; half-backs, Vincent, Wile and Brown; forwards, Sales, Greuterous, Gale, Stevens and Buxton; Sammy Duffy as referee was not nearly strict enough.

J. B. A. vs. Wards.
The fortunes of football were never better shown than on Saturday at Oak Bay, when the J. B. A. won from the North Ward team by one goal to spare after being two behind at the interval. The game was not a satisfactory one to watch, as the backs and goalkeepers on each side were not showing good form and mistakes were the rule throughout. The forwards missed several good shots, although the Bays' line demonstrated better passing capacity than the Wards. The last 15 minutes were the best part of the struggle, when the North Wards worked hard to pick up the adverse margin, and would have succeeded if their forward brigade had been quicker with the ball.

The game was characterized throughout by clean play, and referee McDougall had little difficulty with the whistle. From a centre by Thomas, Allen scored the first goal for the Bays, and then they took a back seat while the Wards scored twice in the first half. The first goal was an easy one, Lorimer leaving it to the goalkeeper, who missed and Taylor's shot secured the equalizing score from half way down the field. A. Dakers obtained the second by dropping the ball into the net over Lefevre's head. The third came from McCarter, who had put in some useful footwork.

The teams thus crossed over with the North Wards leading by three goals to one, but it was not long after the resumption of play before Pilkington netted the second of the Bays and followed it up with the equalizing goal, which Bains should have saved. Hodgson put his side ahead with another neat shot, and a considerable interval elapsed before the Bays were able to draw level from Allen's kick. The Bays were weak in defence and the men failed to feed their forwards, while the Ward full backs ought to clear more quickly. A few minutes before time was called Pilkington obtained the decisive goal for the Bays, the game ending five to four in their favor. From the line up which appears below it will be seen that each team had changes from the eleven announced. The line-up was as follows:

Bays—Goal, Lefevre; fullbacks, Sherriff and Lorimer; halves, Dilger, Lemay, Gerard; forwards, Thomas, Allen, Pilkington, Matthew and Rothwell.
Wards—Goal, Bains; fullbacks, McDonald and Isbister; halves, Taylor, Brynjolfson, A. Dakers; forwards, Sharp, McCarter, Hodgson, T. Peden and J. Dakers.

Wards vs. Foresters.
A second division game between the North Wards and Foresters was played at the Ward park on Saturday afternoon and resulted in a tie, 1 all. Both goals were scored in the first half. O. Hartley refereed.

Garrison vs. Wests.
The Garrison second division team won its first victory of the season against the Wests at the Work Point grounds on Saturday, the score being 3-1. Several very necessary changes have been made in the line-up of the soldiers and they showed a great improvement over their work in past games. A. Thomas refereed.

Junior Game.
In a hard fought game at Beacon Hill the High School was defeated by the Wards by a score of 2 goals to 1. All the goals were scored in the second half. McIlroy, of the High School, and Sherrett and Cummings, of the Wards, were responsible for the goals.

SPORT NOTES

They are making a lot of talk in the east about a professional lacrosse team in Victoria in 1912. President Jones, of the Vancouver Lacrosse Club, is quoted as saying on Saturday: "With men like Joe Lally or Charlie Querrie the game would soon become popular in the west, and I would not be surprised if some of the eastern officials head a team over there next season."

Fred Graydon, the big lively home man of the Tecumsehs, may join the Vancouver next season.

Harry Wolverton, manager of the Oakland team of the Pacific Coast League, is being considered as a possible successor to Hal Chase in the leadership of the New York Americans next season. Wolverton already has signed his 1912 contract with Oakland, but in the event of an offer from New York it is believed the coast club will not stand in his way.

A very enjoyable run was held by the members of the Victoria Hunt Club yesterday, starting and finishing at the Pemberton Meadows. Twenty-six jumps in all were taken without a mishap. A number of motor parties followed the chase. Refreshments were served by Mrs. (Capt.) Clark from her car. Those present included Messrs. Crawford, Marshall, Drewry, Moore, Williams, Clark, Lucas, Irwin, Dr. Medd, Fitzwilliams, Leonard, and McDonald, Miss Holden and Mrs. Cox. Secretary Morton was unable to attend because of illness.

John J. McGraw believes that Nap Rucker, Brooklyn's left-handed pitcher, is the greatest heaver that ever lived. McGraw and Rucker have held a reunion during the world's series and McGraw discussed pitchers. He picked Rucker as the greatest of all time. "Greater than Mathewson, and I have told Matty that very thing. Rucker is the best that ever stepped on a pitcher's mound." Rucker used to work in a printing office. One day he set up an article that told of fabulous salaries received by ball players. Rucker took off his working clothes, left the print shop and told them he would start in baseball.

A startling move is being planned by President Ban Johnson of the American League, so the report goes. It is nothing less than the transfer of Ty Cobb, baseball's greatest player, from the Detroit Tigers to the New York Yankees. Ban Johnson runs the American League. If he wants to transfer Cobb he will do it. Detroit to the contrary notwithstanding. And the New York American League club need just such an attraction as Cobb. The American League never has drawn as well in New York as the Giants. The park on the hilltop where Hal Chase and his men perform seldom has held over 15,000 persons. Johnson wants to remedy this. He figures that with Cobb in the lineup things would be different. They are building a new park for the Yankees this fall and it will take a real ball team to fill it next year.

Potter, a former Cumberland man, will play for the Ward senior football the rest of the season. He has been reinstated by the B. C. A. A. U.

The meeting of the Basketball Association, set for last Saturday evening, has been postponed a week.

GRAND MASQUE CARNIVAL

On November 21 a grand masque carnival will be held at the Port street skating rink. Prizes will be given for fancy skating, best dress, most comical dress, etc. An orchestra will render the music. Arrangements are being rushed ahead by the management of the skating rink and it is expected that a splendid entertainment will be provided.

VICTORIANS TAKE FIRST

Seattle, Nov. 6.—The Seattle Golf Club team was defeated Saturday by thirteen points by a team from the Victoria Golf Club. The match was played at the local links and developed excellent golf. A cup will be given the team winning two straight matches. The return match will be played in Victoria.

SCHOOL SOCCER.

The South Park defeated the Central School in an "under 16" league game at the North Ward park on Saturday by a score of 1 goal to 0. Mr. Sparks refereed. In the "under 14" league the George Jay school won from the most Street school by a score of 1 goal to 0. A. H. McInnes refereed.

Smoking was at one time a penal offence in Turkey.

THREE CLUB HOCKEY LEAGUE ON COAST

Suggested That Team Be Placed in Westminster—
Former Plan Feasible

Although the proposition of placing hockey teams in Edmonton and Calgary to play in the Western Canada League has petered out Frank and Lester Patrick are still busy on the proposition on more modified lines and it is practically certain that there will be at least three clubs in the league.

It has been suggested that one be formed in New Westminster, but as both mainland clubs would have to use the same rink the former plan of having two in Vancouver is more feasible. There is no doubt that once the game has been introduced on the coast little trouble will be experienced in increasing the size of the organization.

The Patrick Brothers are confident that both rinks, in Vancouver and here will be ready for skating by the first of December.

Tommy Dunderdale, the crack Winnipeg hockey player, has received a letter from Frank Patrick asking him to name his terms to play with one of the Vancouver Clubs. Tommy also has an offer from the Quebec club. However, big salaries are bound to prevail in the Coast League and it is just possible that Tommy may be found handling a stick for Vancouver in the coming season. Last year Dunderdale was rated as one of the best forwards in the National Association.

GEORGE JAY GIRLS WIN.

The George Jay girls hockey team won from the High school at the Victoria Cricket Club's grounds on Saturday morning, the score being 1 to 0. The players were in good form and the game was interesting throughout. W. Lorimer refereed.

B. C. RUGBY FIFTEEN WON CLOSE MATCH

Stanford's Real Strength Not on Field Saturday—Big Game a Week Off

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 6.—The All-Star British Columbia rugby fifteen scored its first victory of the present trip Saturday defeating a mixed team from the Stanford varsity and scrub squads 6 to 5. The north-erners played good rugby, their back field getting into its stride for the first time.

There were but seven men of the regular Stanford varsity in the line up, all who had slight injuries or who were not in the very best shape being kept off the field. The varsity-coach did not wish to take chances with his men as the Stanford-California game is but a week away. Before the game ended every varsity man had been taken out.

PRINCETON VS. HARVARD.

Tigers Won First Game Teams Have Played For Fifteen Years.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—A safety, over which there was some doubt and on which points were allowed, spelled Princeton's victory over Harvard Saturday by a score of 8 to 6. On all-around football the Crimson had a trifle the better and outstruck Princeton, but a blocked kick, when Harvard was about to score a goal from the field, completely turned the tide of battle. White grabbed the ball and ran ninety-five yards for a touch-down. In the third period a Princeton punt was about to roll over the Harvard goal line, but a Harvard back grabbed it too soon and a safety was scored against the Crimson. Harvard's score was made on a Princeton fumble and a forward pass, Wendell making the score. There was a great Tiger celebration at the end of the game.

It was the first game Harvard and Princeton had played in fifteen years. In all, Harvard has met Princeton sixteen times on the gridiron and of these games has won only three.

Princeton capturing twelve, while one was a tie.

REFEREE FROM VANCOUVER.

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 6.—T. E. D. Byrne of Vancouver, B. C., will referee the California-Stanford rugby game on Stanford field here next Saturday. Announcement of his selection was made here Saturday by the Stanford representatives in the several conferences held with California for the purpose of naming officials of the game. Byrne is reputed to be one of the most expert rugby referees in British Columbia. He was captain of the Vancouver team which played the California university two years ago and was popular with the local rugby men at that time.

MILITIA MINISTER

PAYS FIRST VISIT

Col. Hughes on Inspection Tour
With General Mackenzie—
Visited Esquimalt To-day

Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., minister of militia, who arrived on Saturday evening from Vancouver, accompanied by General Colin Mackenzie, is making his first visit of inspection since his recent appointment of that portfolio in the Borden administration.

The minister makes it clear that the trip is one to place himself in personal contact with the situation on the Pacific coast, recognizing the importance of the ocean traffic from Pacific ports of Canada to the Orient, and the necessity of the defence of these ports, but at the present time he is quite unprepared to make any announcement as to the departmental action.

He was met at the wharf by a number of political friends and heads of the militia department, having as the steamer passed into the inner harbor received a salute of seventeen guns from Work Point barracks. The party at the wharf included Major Mills from Work Point, Lieut.-Col. Currie, commanding Fifth Regiment, C. G. A.; Capt. Foulkes, and Major Ridgway Wilson, and from the Victoria Conservative Association were Aldermen H. M. Fullerton, R. E. Green, J. L. Beck, with A. G. Sargison, W. H. Price, W. Blakemore, W. H. Cullin and R. W. Perry.

The minister's party included his daughter, Miss Aileen Hughes, General and Mrs. Mackenzie, and C. L. Lewis, his private secretary. They did not all register at the Empress hotel on arrival, as Col. Hughes has a son resident here, Garret Hughes, 1019 Chamberlain street, whom he visited yesterday morning.

Lieut.-Col. Currie at once invited the minister to inspect the Fifth Regiment during his visit here, but the minister explained that the present trip did not permit him to stay long in any city, but he hoped to be on the coast at an early date again, when the inspection might take place.

The member for the city, G. H. Barnard, Col. Hughes explained to a Times representative, had a number of matters concerning the constituency to bring to his notice, and that was really the cause of his visit to this city at the present time, as well as to make himself personally acquainted with conditions.

To-day the minister spent some hours in inspecting the defences at Esquimalt, to see what is required. He would not pledge himself with regard to the garrison until the department was in full possession of the facts. The party, however, made a thorough investigation of the actual situation of the fortifications.

Another matter which will engage his attention while in Victoria is the condition of the drill hall, and other details of militia equipment and requirements were also talked over with Col. Currie yesterday morning. The local forces are to be armed with Ross rifles, mark 3, as soon as they can be turned out by the factory, the minister this early showing his confidence in the weapon which his colleagues unanimously condemned and he alone in opposition supported.

The party leave on to-night's boat for Vancouver, and will immediately return to Ottawa.

LAW STUDENTS WIN.

Bays Defeated by Six Points—Game
Next Saturday.

The Law Students won a victory from the J. B. A. at Oak Bay, Saturday, scoring a try in each half. On neither occasion was Shires able to convert.

The Bays had several of their men playing for the students, including Shires, Gallher and O'Brien, who starred for the winners, while Day, the captain, did some useful work for the Bays. The play was loose at times, but the scrums were keenly contested and the threequarters on each side worked hard.

A game between the students and the Victoria High school is probable next Saturday on the same ground.

EASTERN FOOTBALL.

Saturday's Results were as follows:
Inter-provincial—Hamilton, Tigers 9, Argos 8; Ottawa 18, Montreal 17. Both Hamilton and Ottawa won in the last 15 seconds of the game.

Inter-collegiate—Toronto Varsity 23; Queens 4; McGill 12, Ottawa College 30; Union 19, St. Michaels 7; Alerts 18, Dundas 0.

American—Minnesota 30, Chicago 0; Yale 23, New York College 0; Pennsylvania 0, Carlisle 16; Amherst, 6, Dartmouth 18; Browns 30, Tufts 0; Pittsburg 0, Notre Dame 0; Illinois 12, Purdue 2; Nebraska 5, Ames 6; Oklahoma 14, Missouri 6; Army 9, Georgetown 0.

Western Canada—Regina 21, Moose Jaw 11; Calgary Tigers 14, Eskimos 0.

TRUNK ROADS FOR PROVINCE URGED

Resolution Passed at Highways' Association Meeting at New Westminster

New Westminster, Nov. 6.—Resolutions urging both the Dominion and the provincial governments to direct their attention at the earliest possible date to the construction of a certain section of the Trans-Canada Highway in British Columbia and to the improvement of the road leading to Seattle from Vancouver so that that section will be one of the finest highroads on the Pacific Coast were passed at Saturday's session of the newly-formed Canadian Highways' Association meeting.

The petition directed to the provincial government asking for the opening up of the first connecting link of the proposed All-Canadian highway through the Cascades, commencing at Hope and continuing to Princeton or some other point in the interior accessible by easy gradients leading down from the mountain ranges.

A supplementary resolution will be forwarded to Premier Borden at Ottawa. This points out that the Dominion government owns large tracts of land in British Columbia upon which no taxes are paid. On this account the association is of the opinion that the federal government should contribute very substantially to the cost of construction of the highways in this province, as the road will be constructed for the general benefit of all the provinces of Canada.

Another important resolution requests the provincial government to collect and publish data as to the best kinds of road for different sections of the province and the methods of construction. It also urges the department of public works to launch an educational campaign on roadmaking. The association promises to organize halls where special lectures may be given. The provincial government is asked to fix standards for roadbuilding up to which all roads must measure, the contractors forfeiting a percentage of the price arranged if the work is not satisfactory.

There was considerable discussion at the afternoon session as to whether or not the association should ask for a federal law, which would be made applicable to all Canada, changing the rule of the road in British Columbia and the maritime provinces to correspond with that obtaining in the other provinces of the Dominion and in the United States.

A. E. Todd referred to the recent adoption by France of the British rule of the road, which obtains at present in British Columbia. He thought that the British regulations had one great advantage where motorists were concerned, and that was that the passengers in the front seat of a car had immediate access to the pavement, whereas, under the American regulations, where traffic dispersed to the right of the highway, the passengers were forced to alight on the street side, which in large cities, where there was a great deal of traffic, was exceedingly dangerous and had, as a matter of fact, resulted in several fatalities in American cities. The matter was left in abeyance for the present. The meeting seemed to be in favor of retaining the British regulations.

Resolutions were passed thanking the mayor and the Board of Trade of New Westminster for the courtesies extended during the convention, and W. J. Kerr and Dr. and Mrs. Doherty of the Government Colony Farm for their kindness to the delegates. Dr. E. S. Rowe of Vancouver, moved a vote of thanks to the British Columbia press for the attention it had given on the question of good roads and the highway project.

The following officers were elected yesterday: Vice-presidents, Messrs. A. G. McCandless, Vancouver Board of Trade; T. S. Baxter, Vancouver Auto Club; A. E. White, New Westminster Board of Trade; T. J. Armstrong, New Westminster Auto Club; F. Bowser, Victoria Board of Trade; J. H. Macdonald, Victoria Auto Club; J. H. Macdonald, Victoria Auto Club; J. H. Macdonald, Victoria Auto Club.

NEW MAMMOTH LINERS

The race in size for liners is making such good progress that we are now within measurable distance of Lord Pirrie's 1,000-foot ship, says the Manchester Guardian. It has just been decided, I hear, that the new Cunarder Aquitania, which is being built at Clydebank, is to have a length over all of 905 feet—more than 100 feet longer than the company's Lusitania, and 25 feet greater than the White Star liner Olympic. Huge, however, as her proportions will be, the Aquitania will not be quite so large as the Imperator, which is in course of construction in the German yard for the Hamburg-American Line, as the latter vessel will have a length of 910 feet, with a tonnage of 50,000. These boats are intended for New York service, but on other routes the tendency in favor of bigger steamers is quite apparent. The new Allan liners, for instance, will be larger than two of their competitors, the White Star liners Laurentic and Megantic, and they will also exceed the company's Victorian and Virginian, while in case of the two liners on order for the Canadian Pacific Company's Vancouver-Hong Kong route they will be larger in every respect than its well known St. Lawrence Emperors. So far, however, as speed is concerned, the latest plans provide for placing in the North Atlantic trade vessels of the floating hotel type, rather than boats capable of making lightning passages.

WILL BE SENT BACK TO MANITOBA

Man Arrested at Vancouver in Connection With Murder of Foreman

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—The police here on Saturday arrested a man named Nicholas Rhodovitch, a native of Montenegro, on the charge of being concerned in the murder of a man called Hayes.

The crime took place on July 4, 1908, and was of a particularly atrocious character. Rhodovitch, it is stated, met Hayes in a secluded spot in Missoula county, Montana. It is surmised that he was either held up or that a quarrel took place as a result of a visit to a gambling saloon. Whether one or the other, the body of Hayes was found riddled with bullets and slashed almost beyond recognition. Inquiries were at once instituted with a view to tracing Hayes' companions, but without success. All attempts to locate the man or two who, when Rhodovitch was charged, with keeping a "blind pig" for that offence he was fined $50.

His acquaintanceship with the local police did not end there, for in a few days he was again apprehended on a charge of attempted robbery. On that charge he was returned for trial, but as there was not sufficient evidence to convict he was discharged. Then came intimation of the fact that he was wanted by the Montana police on the charge referred to, and he was on the point of leaving Vancouver when the arrest was carried out.

A description of the man was immediately wired to the police in Missoula, and a reply was received that he is the wanted person. He will be held pending the arrival of an escort to remove him south.

The Crime.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 6.—John Hayes, for whose murder Nicholas Rhodovitch was arrested in Vancouver, was a foreman on the construction of the St. Paul tunnel of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railroad. Over some matter of administration the Montenegrins in Hayes' gang became insubordinate and attacked him. He stood them off, but later they renewed the attack, and Hayes killed one of them in self-defence. He was exonerated, and returned to work, despite repeated warnings. Not long after his mutilated body was found. It was alleged the murderer was spirited away by his countrymen.

LABOR LEADERS' TYRANNY

Revolt of British Unions From Rule of Socialist Demagogues

The energetic campaign undertaken by the British Labor party to defeat the attempt of the Socialists to capture the trade unions is meeting with the cordial support of individuals and associations, who see in the advance of the so-called Progressives a menace both to industrial institutions and to the state. Speaking of the present-day Labor leader (against whom the new Labor organization has declared war) these sympathizers point to the enormous change which has taken place in the position of the trade unions during the past ten years. Formerly trade union officials were really craftsmen, whose sole work was the study of the interests of the members of their unions and to negotiate between the masters and the men. They had practical knowledge of the work of their trade, and were at hand, with assistance and advice if appealed to, and by prompt intervention much labor dislocation was prevented. They found plenty to do.

In those days only a few trade unionists were sent to parliament, and they were sent more as specialists on industrial questions than as representing any political dogmas. But on the formation of the Labor Representation Committee (now the Labor party) Socialists schemers got hold of the trade unions, and as Mr. Harman Griswood, secretary to the Anti-Socialist Union, said recently, "they have since captured the funds, and in fact the whole machinery of the unions. A seat in the House of Commons," continued this gentleman, "has grown to be the chief object of the official, and to this the well being of the members of his union is subordinate, and the controlling force is no longer the members, but a handful of politicians, who fill the executive posts. Political considerations have ousted industrial considerations in the organizations. The spirit of Socialism has permeated the conduct of both the head offices and the branches, with the result that individual freedom has gone, and the old-time methods of trade unions have been dropped."

"One very great safeguard of the members in trade unions was the vote. They could either vote for or against any particular line of action, or could openly vote for or against particular officials; but since the Socialist domination the 'clique' has been so strong that men have been afraid to vote against it. Even the methods of balloting have been ingeniously arranged, either to thwart the will of the majority or to intimidate the individual. The case of Tonyandy is an instance of this. There only one-half of the voting paper had to be placed in the ballot-box, and the miners were obliged to show the other half outside to a mob of Socialists, who, although a minority of the union, were a majority of those present, and so intolerant were they that physical violence was feared. The result was as the Socialists desired. There was nothing of this kind in the old-time trade union procedure."

"Again, the schedule vote has been adopted in many unions as a means of preventing each man that the vote can be traced, and that the officials know whether he has voted for or against them. The man's name and address have to be filled in on his voting paper. This is the reason why such a small percentage of the members of each union have voted upon questions like the Osborne judgment. When the ship-

A SWIFT BIRD.

The Mexican road runner has only two short legs, but he can beat a horse, a hound, and an electric carriage, and give them a handicap start. Speed is not his only recommendation. He eats as he runs, or, rather, as the things run away with him. Snakes are the principal part of his diet, big and little. His crop is as elastic as his legs are swift, and when he wants to prepare for a long journey he coils up a rattler or two inside of his neck and sets out across the Mexican desert with a swiftness that makes it look like a bunch of dust on a record-breaking tour around the world.

PRICES of Semi-ready Clothes are fixed and plainly marked on each garment. They are sold at the same prices everywhere in Canada. A $15 or $20 Suit or Overcoat here costs the same in Montreal or in Vancouver, in the East or in the West.

Special Suits can be made to order at the shops in 4 days' time. We send your measure.

Where Is The C.T.P. Fraser Lake Townsite Located?

WE ARE RECEIVING ENQUIRIES AS TO THIS DAILY

This Clipping from The Province of Oct. 4th, 1911, Answers This Question

FRASER LAKE TOWNSITE TO GO ON MARKET

G. T. P. Land Commissioner Makes Important Announcement

From The Daily Province, Vancouver, B. C., October 4, 1911.

Mr. G. U. Ryley, land commissioner of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, announces that the company are putting on the market at once the townsite of Fraser Lake. Fraser Lake is situated on the company's main line in British Columbia and on the west end of the lake from which it derives its name. The townsite is situated on the beautiful homestead and pre-emption of Malcolm McNevin, being lots 2011 and 217, range 5, Coast district. Mr. McNevin is the government road commissioner for this and the Fort George District, and selected this land for his homestead on account of its excellent quality and picturesque location. Mr. Ryley feels this will be one of the most important points on the company's line in the interior of British Columbia, as it is situated tributary to a magnificent farming and grazing country, and in a district of unlimited natural resources, and on account of its excellent location on the shore of Fraser Lake, which lake is at the head of one thousand miles of navigable water. Mr. Brownlee, the well known Manitoba and British Columbia surveyor, who laid out Fraser Lake Townsite, brought his supplies by the steamboat from Soda Creek and unloaded them direct from the boat on the townsite. He also speaks highly regarding the townsite and surrounding district.

It is expected there will be a rush of buyers to get locations and investments in this townsite, and the opening prices are considered exceptionally low.

This Letter is Definite and Requires No Explanation

Victoria, B. C., September 27, 1911.

To Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that the townsite of Fraser Lake is an official townsite of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, situated on its main line in British Columbia, and that Messrs. ### LECTURES TO FRUIT GROWERS IN WINTER

Department of Agriculture Arranging Programme for January, February and March

In response to a number of applications in hand from the different agricultural districts the provincial department of agriculture will, through January, February and March, hold meetings for fruit growers at which discussions can be held on fruit-growing, planting, pruning, and spraying, the study and analysis of soils, treatment, cultivation, and fertilizing. The meetings were commenced last winter and were held with a considerable amount of success. This winter the district institutes and associations that apply for lectures are to be accommodated. Two centres in any one district are all that can be visited and there must be a guaranteed attendance of thirty at each meeting.

The visits of the departmental officials to the centres applying are to extend over two days with sessions morning, afternoon and evening. The latter session lecture is to be illustrated with lantern slides on plant life. Officials from the department and fruit growers of the different districts are to discuss the subjects at hand. The meetings are to be advertised in each centre and the subject matter can be chosen by the local organizations from among the following subjects:

The selection of orchard sites and soils; buying nursery stock, and the choice of commercial varieties; propagation of trees, grafting and budding; soils, their origin and types; the planting and care of the orchard; soil cultivation; fertilizers for orchards; the use of cover crops and crops for green manuring; pruning; the prevention of winter injury to trees; plant physiology, its importance to the fruit grower; insects and plant diseases; sprays and spraying; the growing of small fruits; judging of fruit and exhibition standards; practical co-operation in buying and selling; economy in production; simple bookkeeping; the markets for fruits and vegetables; commercial production of early and late potatoes; celery, cabbage, tomatoes; profitable onion growing, and fertilizers for vegetable crops.

To the Editor: I would like to insert a few lines in your paper that seem vital and opportune at this stage of Victoria's remarkable development.

Premier McBride has recommended that we supplant the foreigners now employed in our coast-line industries by substituting white men, in order that we might have a body of men on which to call to man our future navy; a class of men associated with the sea and vitally interested in the country of their birth or adoption. On the other hand we find employers in our city, not of the fish industries either, working the reverse proposition through the farcical "open shop" policy, preferring aliens opposed to the local organized workmen. It is also quite noticeable that foremen and sub-foremen are always selected in such cases with regard to their opposition to the just and progressive aims of Victoria workmen and because they recognize nothing in a worker but labor power and subservience. Much could be said along this line, but perhaps the hint is sufficient. It may be that the wealthy have a right to forget patriotism when they desire cheap labor and larger profits. Maybe the working people should remain constantly in love with our institutions and be ready to die for the country whether their demands for simple justice be concurred in or not. Let us not forget that the people cannot remain patriotic on royal salaries, cheers and hurrahs alone, but require some guarantee of life, liberty and tenance in the country they love. When the workers of England felt keenly a desire for a few more ounces of bread per day, a few more ounces of beef and a little more sleep, they were driven to the last resort, the disastrous strike, the miseries of which will never be half told. What was the business of the "government" at the time preceding that crisis in the face of so simple and just demands? Let the people of Victoria and of Canada learn a lesson from these events, show appreciation for their own, recognize our organized workmen, grant them what fair play they ask under our inequitable wage system and hold their love and esteem. It will be best for our city, for they spend their money at home, and best for Canada should she need them in war. The best soldiers, the only citizens worth anything, are men of developed minds and consequent self-esteem and ambition; if not disposed to resist oppression at home, they would be but poor instruments to resist the aggression of a foreign foe. However, the physical appearances of the two classes of workmen suggested clearly indicate the characters behind; the organized workmen recommend themselves.

No intelligent men are unaware of the tremendous unrest that permeates the working class to-day. Associating themselves as unions of trade, Socialists, and in bodies which contemplate the consolidation of all workmen and women in one general body, they are constantly registering their disaffection through the press, the strike and, in extreme cases, in the advocacy of a general paralysis of business. Where this great movement will end no man knows. Master minds are studying the problems, for empires and republics are stirred by the discontented murmurs of this industrial giant who provides our means of life and pleasure, who even toils beyond our needs and his own and makes us rich besides. So many times has an animal fear, born of experienced want, suppressed his bent to higher thought and mental freedom that wearied of the obsession he casts about for the co-operation of his fellow-workmen, that together they may loose the bonds of excessive toil, create anew the hopes of sanguine youth, and realize without worry the material substances necessary to animal existence and the creation and maintenance of intelligent home life. His conscious importance is companion to his increased intelligence, and no selfish intrigues can force him back to the obsolete acquiescence that the worker should be slave to the employer and that men must needs hunger and worry to be spiritualized. Realizable Christianity is not a waiting game, but the ideals of an earthly heaven evolved by work pressure and vigilance. The workers are at it. Only the blind do not see it. This whole subject seems to radiate from the very carnal subject, the human stomach. Fear, hatred and crime are the offspring mainly of diseased stomachs, crude as it may sound. We tap the physical through this central organ of our anatomy for all our emotions, aspirations and joys of life. Its treatment is vital to the order of society. Unconsciously it contributes the inspiration of humor and responsible enjoyment, the health, happiness and unity of the family. The elements taken into the stomach possess specific qualities affecting the curtailment of the thought and motives of the will. When normal it defines its needs through appetite for whatever elements conduce to thought and feeling, until all the multitude of human ecstasies are realized; and it encourages the soul to development of the finer sensibilities that forestall celestial harmonies. Is it any wonder then that the natural fear arising from a state of society that constantly threatens the health of this wonderful organ should incite men to unity for its welfare and drive weaklings to cowardly servility? We have come to believe that the bounteous provision of the earth is for every man and woman, not to make any rich beyond capacity to assimilate or truly enjoy, but that all may have and to spare. Let none be so selfish or shortsighted, especially in this city of inspiration and goodwill, as to favor outcasts of the unions and low-browed foreigners in lieu of our own citizens and home-lovers, so generally represented in our local trades-unions. Union aims and ideals are the reflex of altruism and patriotism, and the strike is but an issue of desperation seldom to be availed of in the future. All are invited to further elevate the aims of the labor unions, widen their scope and help to correct what follies to which, like all human instruments, they are liable.

SMALLEST INHABITED ISLAND.

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone Lighthouse stands. At low water it is 30 feet in diameter; at high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is 28½ feet, completely covers it. It is inhabited by three persons. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast, and fourteen miles south-west of Plymouth Breakwater. Flatholme, an island in the British Channel, is only a mile and a half in circumference, but, consisting mostly of rich pasture land, supports a farmhouse, besides the lighthouse with a revolving light 165 feet above the sea.

William Lees, Glasgow, Scotland, who is paying a visit on business and pleasure combined for the first time to this coast, has returned to Victoria from Seattle. He asked a number of questions about the iron and steel industry, with which he is associated, and its prospects of development in this province, with such unbounded mineral resources.

Victoria Council, Knights of Columbus, will give a ball in the Alexandra Club ballroom on the evening of the 24th of January. No effort will be spared by the Knights to make the affair a grand success, and the proceeds will be divided equally among the Jubilee hospital, tuberculosis sanitarium and St. Joseph's hospital. A committee of three ladies representing the three institutions will act in conjunction with the Knights.

At noon Saturday the church of St. James the Apostle, Guelph, Ont., was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Jean A. Cooke, daughter of the late Rev. George B. Cooke, of Acton, and Mrs. Cooke, 123 Glasgow street, to Rev. B. A. Walton-Ford, son of the late Edward A. Walton-Ford, of London, Eng., and Mrs. Walton-Ford, of Vancouver, B. C. Only the immediate relatives and a number of friends were present. Rev. C. H. Buckland, rector of St. James' church, conducted the marriage ceremony, the bride being given away by her brother, Mr. Herbert Cooke, of Tara, Ont. Rev. and Mrs. Ford left for Chilliack, B. C., where Mr. Ford is curate.

All society is looking forward to the masquerade ball to be given on Thursday evening next in the A. O. U. W. hall, under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of St. George. This year special and valuable prizes have been offered for ladies and gentlemen representing national, historical, sustained, comic advertising characters, whilst especially valuable prizes have been provided for the best fancy costumed lady and gentleman. The prizes are on view in a clothing store on Yates street. Miss Thain's orchestra will supply an excellent programme of music for dancing. The decoration committee are busy, and the ladies of the order intend to arrange a bouffe supper. Tickets are now in the hands of the members of the order. A new feature of the ball this year is the distribution of tombola prizes to the spectators as well as to the dancers.

The Victoria police department is busy with the preparations for the third annual ball. All necessary arrangements in anticipation of an annual event far ahead of former years, all of which will be properly completed for the affair, which takes place on the 6th of December, are being made. The dance music will be furnished by the Fifth Regiment band, and the catering is to be by Al Belanger in the large and spacious supper rooms being arranged for the dance. Cloak rooms, card room and lounging rooms properly heated are to be made for the comfort of the guests. There is still another month before the event, but a number of men are already at work with the building at the fair grounds, where the ball will be held, preparing the floor for dancing and getting the walls in order for the decorations. Tickets went on sale three days ago, and are fast being taken. The proceeds go to the police fund.

Peru has hundreds of square miles along its coast of rainless country. In this tract rain is never known to fall from one century's end to another. Yet the region is not entirely barren of vegetation. Some parts of it indeed are comparatively fertile. This is due to the extraordinary fog known as "garua." They prevail every night from May to October after a summer that is sultry and extend up to a level of 1,500 feet above the sea.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"I don't see how I ever shall stand the cold weather. I actually had all the bed clothes that I use in winter on my bed last night and I was hardly warm enough."

The speaker held out her hands to the open fire and shivered as it were January instead of October.

"That," said the lady-who-always-knows-something, "is what everyone says every fall. You hear more complaining of the cold weather in the first cold snap of the fall, than you do on the coldest day in midwinter. It's all in getting used to it, I think. When I find myself wondering in the fall how I'm going to stand the cold, I always remind myself that I felt just that way last fall and that as soon as I got used to the cold, I didn't mind it a bit and even liked it."

How much "getting used to it" does have to do with standing the cold weather—and incidentally, many other things.

When the first cold snap comes, those of us who are not by nature cold weather fiends, shiver in our boots and say something like the complaint I quoted at the beginning.

But by the time the real cold weather has come we have forgotten all about our inability to endure it. We just take it as a matter-of-fact or even enjoy it once we "get used to it."

And how many changes, how many unbecome conditions, how many difficult situations, which at first we do not see how we can endure, are likewise metamorphosed by the slow magic of "getting used to it."

"A year after I was married my husband's business changed," says a beautiful middle-aged woman, "and much against my will, I moved a thousand miles from my home. It seemed to me at first that I simply couldn't stand the change. I hated everything about that new home. I hated the people and the shops and the cars and every little thing. But I've moved back to my original home now and I can look back over everything with an impartial eye, and I must honestly say that the years I spent in the home of my adoption were the happiest years of my life."

Happiness often wears strange disguises at first and needs "getting used to it" to tear off the mask.

The lady-who-always-knows-something said, "When I find myself wondering in the fall how I'm going to stand the cold, I always remind myself that I felt just that way last fall, and that as soon as I got used to the cold I didn't mind it a bit and even liked it."

It seems to me that he has mastered one of the greatest lessons in life who has learned, whenever he faces some condition that seems unendurable, to remind himself in similar fashion, how bravely he learned to endure or even to like some other "unendurable" condition.

COOKING RECIPES.

Rice and Peach Pudding.—Steam a small cupful of rice, with two cups of water in the double boiler for half an hour. To the hot rice add salt to season; then half a cup of sugar, a beaten egg, and a tablespoon of butter. Cook all together five minutes. Butter a pudding dish and sprinkle the bottom and sides with bread crumbs. Put in a layer of rice, then a layer of sliced or canned peaches; sprinkle the fruit with sugar, put on another layer of rice, then another of fruit, and so on until the dish is full, having rice on top. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs, and bake in a moderate oven twenty minutes. Serve with thin boiled custard flavored with vanilla.

Beef Rissoles.—Chop very fine some cold roast beef or cooked steak. Season with pepper and salt, mix with bread-crumbs, and bind together with beaten egg or beef gravy. Roll some puff paste thin, and cut into discs with a large biscuit cutter. Put a large spoonful of the beef mixture on each disc, brush the edges with beaten egg and fold over in a half circle, or leave flat and cover with another piece of paste like a small pie. Pinch the edges together, brush beaten egg over the outside, and fry like croquettes in deep hot fat. Let get nicely browned, then drain on thick white paper and serve hot in a folded napkin.

Toasted Cheese With Egg.—Put three large tablespoons of stale bread crumbs into a bowl with enough milk to soak them soft. Add two eggs, salt and pepper to taste, two level teaspoons of mustard, and a cupful of grated cheese. Beat all together well, spread on slices of toast, and place in a hot oven to brown quickly. Sprinkle lightly with grated cheese before serving.

Date Pudding.—Put a cup and a half of boiling water into double boiler; salt to taste, and stir in slowly three-fourths of a cup of cream of wheat. Cook fifteen minutes, add one teaspoon of sugar and a half cup of milk. Cook until thick and just before serving add half a cup of chopped dates. Serve hot with cream.

SCHOOLBOYS' DUEL

A pistol duel between high school boys was fought at Tielche, near Rudolstadt. A sixteen-year-old lad named Von Necker was killed, and his opponent, who was eighteen, was slightly wounded.

The latter, whose name was Dietzen, turned his weapon against himself after the encounter, and shot himself twice. One bullet pierced his lungs, and his condition is hopeless. There were no seconds.

The lads are said to have quarrelled on account of insulting language used by Necker about a young girl whom they had both met at a dancing class.

RODGERS LANDS

AT PASADENA

PRACTICALLY COMPLETES
TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHTHas Travelled Nearly 5,000
Miles in Aeroplane—Plans
Trip Out to Sea

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 6.—In a flying machine that held together only through the good will of Providence, Calbraith P. Rodgers, the transcontinental aviator, caught a glimpse of the Pacific ocean yesterday as he soared level with the gray top of Mount Wilson, and settled down in Tournament Park amidst a clamorous multitude, waiting to welcome him at what was virtually the finish of his flight from Sheephead Bay, N. Y.

Rodgers landed at a hotel yesterday afternoon. To-day he expects to fly out over the Pacific. If the motor that has lifted and pushed him and his aeroplane through the air for a distance of nearly 5,000 miles, continues to do its duty, and thus finish the epoch-making feat of aviation, really an ocean-to-ocean flight.

Rodgers appeared on the skyline shortly after 3 o'clock, a few moments after he had risen from Pomona, twenty miles down the San Gabriel Valley. He was sighted first by telescopes levelling at him from the solar observatory on Mount Wilson, and word flashed down the mountain by telephone causing a swarming of 20,000 people to Tournament Park.

His landing was a signal for the rush that overbore every restraint. Rodgers literally was mobbed. He was borne hither and thither by the surging crowd. Eager hands clutched and scratched him, but his leather clothing was strong enough to resist attack, although afterward the aviator declared his ribs would surely manifest blue and black marks of an over-enthusiastic greeting.

Rodgers' mother and wife, who have been following him on a special train all the way from New York, left Pasadena immediately after Rodgers and were waiting for him at the hotel when he arrived.

Rodgers does not know himself where he will end his trip. He will fly over one of the beach cities to-day, and officially terminate his flight to the ocean, but he is awaiting inducements and competitive bidding of rival seaside resorts before deciding at what point to come down.

Rodgers announced this morning that his plane had just enough power to last to Pasadena. Until it is again rebuilt the aviator cannot continue on the way to the Pacific ocean.

HOMESITES FOR WORKMEN.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 6.—The city council of St. John is considering a proposition to lay out a section of land which it owns in the suburbs in two hundred or more lots 50 by 200 feet, to be sold to workmen on easy terms, the men binding themselves to erect homes and live there.

THREE CHEQUE MEN

BEFORE MAGISTRATE

Two Years for Alexander
Stevens, Six Months for Richard King

The facility with which cheques have been passed in Victoria during the last two weeks drew down on Alexander Stevens this morning in the police court a sentence of two years from Magistrate Jay, for obtaining money from the Empire Clothing Company by this well-worn but nevertheless successful means, and drew another remark from the magistrate as to the ease with which forgers can obtain blank cheques from the banks.

The police court took this morning contained a full company, but when the drunks were disposed of there remained only three cases to be tried, and all of the three were for the cheque habit.

Stevens had obtained money and clothes by a bare-faced forgery, presenting cheques for $50 and $25 to the Empire Clothing Company, and was only arrested as he stepped on the Vancouver boat Friday night. He had been successful with one cheque and returned to the store with the second. A lapse of memory as to the signature he had placed on the first was the reason he was laid by the heels.

He received two years for each cheque, but the sentences run concurrently.

Richard D. M. King obtained $10 by means of a valuable cheque from James D. Hill, proprietor of the Hall saloon, Port street, Friday night, and was arrested by the police on Saturday after the hotel man had been the bank and discovered the cheque was valueless.

He had presented the cheque for $10 and tried to get the full amount. Another man working with him, who has not been arrested, informed the hotelkeeper that King was "all right" and that it would be safe to cash his cheque. The next morning Hill met the friend of accused and told accused then went to the saloon to get the balance of the money, but found the police there. He immediately offered all he had, $15, to settle the matter, but was taken to the police station. He was convicted for theft in 1905, and this morning was sentenced to serve six months.

MEXICAN CONSPIRACY.

Papers Discovered Show Plan to Start Counter Revolution.

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Through the discovery of a copy of the "plan of Tacubaya" bearing the signature of Jose Gomez, former minister of the Interior, the police believe they have frustrated a plan for a counter revolution in Mexico.

With the name of Gomez, the document bore those of David de La Fuente, former chief of police; Gen. Rafael Cuellar, uncle of Gen. Samuel Cuellar, who led the federalists at Cuernavaca; and Policarpo Rueda, former provisional governor of the state of Chiapas. It bears the date of October 15.

De la Fuente had been arrested in Chihuahua and on his person the authorities say additional documentary evidence of the proposed revolt was found.

So far all efforts to prove that Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez was involved in any plotting have failed.

"KITCHEN BARS" IN MAINE.

The reaction against prohibition in Maine was caused by the lax administration of the law. The manifest evils flowing from the irregular and illegal sale of intoxicants, and the temptation and facility for adulteration afforded by such sales, naturally bred disgust with existing conditions.

The advocates of repeal of the constitutional prohibition argued that it would be better to give the legislature full power of regulation. If liquor must be sold, they preferred that it should be sold openly under license and inspection that would insure honest goods and orderly conduct.

The chief source of demoralization in Maine is said to be what are called "kitchen bars." These flourish most in the comparatively few cities of Maine, but are not unknown in the rural districts. The trade is mostly carried on by women, who conceal bottles or jugs in their cellars or pantries, and even in their clothing, and serve the contents to apparently casual visitors.

The evil is most intensified in Portland, where it has led to sad demoralization in the poorer quarters of the city, and especially along the wharves. As there is no license to pay, the profits of the traffic, even in a small way, are considerable, and tempt many poor women to engage in it. This leads to the introduction of a low class of men into their homes, and not unfrequently results in the women of the family, including both mother and daughters, going astray, and in the husband and sons becoming sots.

The "kitchen bars" can hardly fail to be breeders of moral ulcers induced by open and regulated traffic. They are undoubtedly responsible for the fact that half the voters of Maine came to the conclusion that the long experiment in an attempt at absolute prohibition was a failure.—Minneapolis Tribune.

DRYDOCK SCHEME IS ## NOW GOING AHEAD

Financial Arrangements Completed for Large Project at Esquimalt

The B. C. Marine Railway Company of Esquimalt, has completed financial arrangements for the construction of the big drydock here, which was announced in the Times some weeks ago. The intention is to commence construction on the largest dock in America at Lang's Cove, adjoining the present plant. The structure is to be one thousand feet long, 100 feet wide, and 36 feet deep, on similar lines to the big graving dock at Southampton, where the White Star leviathans make their English headquarters.

The intention is to construct it of reinforced concrete with granite facings, and electrically-driven apparatus is to be used. It will be possible to empty the dock within an hour, in contrast to the several hours at present required at the drydock. Track facilities are to be provided, and every possible accommodation in yardage available from the E. & N. line, near the naval hospital.

To handle the business a travelling electric crane is to be installed, and this will save a large amount of unnecessary handling of materials. The fitting-out basin will be 700 feet in length by 250 feet in width, and there will be two suitable slips. The design provides for the accommodation of two cruisers at a time, or a Dreadnought and cruiser. The value of the drydock to the naval base is incalculable, and in fact the one is the natural concomitant of the other.

The necessity for a drydock for the mercantile marine was shown recently in the difficulty of repairing the Holt liner Belcorophon when she injured her propeller, and the greatest trouble was experienced in attending to her. The Holt liner at Vancouver had to be raised by the bow to secure an opportunity to do the necessary repairs. All shipping men are agreed with the necessity of the location of a big dock capable of attending to all classes of work at convenient access to the city.

SHERIFF MISSING.

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 6.—Sheriff John McInnes, of Jefferson county, has been missing since Sunday morning, and it is believed he has been drowned in the waters of the Sound.

The rowboat in which he went trolling for salmon Sunday morning was found bottom up two miles above Marrow Point. The oars and rowlocks were missing.

The revenue cutter Manning and searching parties are searching the shore and waters in the vicinity where the boat was found.

The term "reverend" was first used for ministers in the year 1657.

RUNS HARD ASHORE

Hillcraig, Formerly Bannockburn, Lumber Laden for Australia, Mistakes Entrance

Seattle, Nov. 6.—The 5000-ton British tramp steamer Hillcraig, formerly the Bannockburn, went hard and fast on Blakeley rock, at the entrance to Port Blakeley, near Seattle, to-day, and is being lightered in the hope that it will be possible to pull her off.

The Hillcraig had loaded 3,000,000 feet of lumber at Everett for Port Pirie, Australia, and was bound for the mill at Port Blakeley to complete her cargo. The weather was practically clear, but the navigator steered the vessel to the north of the rock, whereas the channel is on the south side. The water is always smooth here.

The lumber is being unloaded as rapidly as possible and it is hoped to get the vessel off at next high tide.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

NEW ZEALAND WHALERS

Graphic Description of the Work of the Whalers With Their Deadly Harpoons

At the cry of "There she blows!" off go the steam launches to replace the nets, three in number, that suffice to "close" the narrow channel. These unanchored are allowed to float loose, the ends of each slightly overlapping. Kept taut by their own weight, they hang stretched on the float line, an invisible curtain of wire mesh barring the water run.

No human fastening, says the Wide World, has yet been invented that would stop the rush of a charging whale. The principle of the detached floating net is not to stop, but so to hamper the monster with a gossamer of wire rope that he falls an easy prey to the hunters. For this reason also the nets are so placed that on striking an entangled whale may race seaward or sound downward, carrying the enveloping net, without fear of disturbing the remaining two.

When the nets are in position the launchers and attendant whaleboats, with their crews, take up their stations. The whale, when it comes to an upheaval and dancing floating line that marks the striking of a whale.

Often a whale's presence is first indicated by great masses of broken barnacles and torn sea-grass that come floating upward to the surface as the whale flounders among the rocks of the sea-floor, causes himself with delighted scratchings in the depths.

In the boats all is tense expectancy and ordered preparation. Harpoon guns are loaded and made ready, lines are carefully flaked down in the tubs, lances are looked to, and everyone is on the qui vive. Suddenly a sort of shudder runs through the sea. They are tossing billows and wild commotion made by the bobbing float lines. "Hurrah! she's struck!" is the cry.

Away go the boats, each racing to be the first fast to the struggling fish and so earn the bonus that rewards the winning crew. A mighty grey-black head, entangled in a clinging web of wire, rears from out the water. Up it goes, till a huge bulk of body towers a good fifty feet in the air, its side fins thrashing wildly in a smother of foam. It curves in an arch, and then, like an arrow, down go whale and net together for the sound.

Not for long, though. The upward drag of bunched net floats, and the necessity for breath brings the animal quickly to the surface—a spouting, snorting, wallowing mass; mad with rage, wild with terror of the unknown clinging horror that envelops it.

"Bang! bang!" go the guns from each boat in quick succession. Both irons are home and well placed. A wild quiver of flukes and fins, and the whale either sounds again or rises along the surface, towing the boats after it at express speed. But the net holds fast, and at each new effort for freedom the victim becomes more helplessly wound up than before.

Soon exhausted with futile struggling, the whale comes to rest, and there is a momentary cessation of the mad fight—as the motionless pauses for breath. Hair-raising gasps are plainly audible at a distance of half a mile.

The crews are quick to seize the opportunity. With the lancesmen ready in the bow the boats sweep in, one on either side. "Steady with the lance." "Now!" Eight-foot steel blades drive deep for the heart behind the pectoral fins.

A shiver, a hissing spout of water and blood, a wallow and roll of the huge wire-tangled carcass, flashes of red and white foam in the sunlight, and the black heave of a twenty-foot fin that for one dread instant, scimitar-shaped, a falling wall of bone and sinew, hangs over the boat and its occupants. The boat's crew back out like lightning. Down crashes the mighty fall, missing its blow by a bare foot. There is a roar and clap of many thunders, and jetting spurts of spray leap high into the blue.

The boats, backed clear, still hang to the lines, the crews watching events and waiting the end. It may be that the dying whale will sound again or race in a final effort. But the lances have got home. A few more wallows of despair, the great tail flukes thrash the water with lessening force, and presently the huge body, inert, lifeless, lies quietly on the surface. Hawkers are made fast to the dead whale, and while the boats return to their stations to watch the remaining nets, it is towed by the launch to the jetty ashore.

OLD MASONIC INSTITUTION.

Charity Takes Form At Maintaining School For Girls.

In accordance with a recent decision of the General Court of the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls, preparations are going forward for the improvement of the centenary hall and Alexandra wing of the institution at Clapham, England. The expenditure entailed by this enterprise probably will amount to fully $3,000. This represents another substantial assurance of usefulness and vitality of this most ancient of the Masonic charities, the interesting story of whose past is told by its busy secretary, Rev. R. Percy Simpson.

Few charitable institutions have had so brilliant a history as the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls. Its inception was the result of a suggestion made by the Chevalier Bartholomew Ruspoli, surgeon dentist to King George IV., for the purpose of educating, clothing and maintaining a limited number of girls, whether orphans or otherwise, the children of members of the Order of Freemasonry. His Majesty, with other members of the royal family, and many of the most influential members of the craft, united in giving the project their warmest help. From that time royal support has never been withdrawn. King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra, as well as the late King of Sweden, were all closely interested in the welfare of the institution. King George and Queen Mary have graciously become grand patron and grand patroness of the institution. The school was originally started as "The Royal Cumberland Freemasons' School," and was located at Chelsea; later it was removed to St. George's Fields, and finally to its present quarters at St. John's Hill, Clapham, where it is represented by palatial and perfectly equipped premises. Since its foundation 2,386 daughters of deceased or distressed Freemasons have been elected into the school, and at present 438 girls (150 without election) are receiving the benefits of the institution. The income from investments is about £7,000, but as £5,000 per annum has been allocated for the purpose of out-education without election, it will be seen that the school still demands that generous support of the craft which has been so readily given in the past.

NEW MUNICIPAL HALL IS OPENED

Structure at South Vancouver
Erected at Cost of $15,000

South Vancouver, Nov. 4.—With fitting ceremonies the new $15,000 municipal hall was officially opened. Over 100 guests sat down to the banquet spread on tables in the spacious council chamber, among them being Mayor Taylor of Vancouver, Mayor McNeish of North Vancouver, Reeve Weart of Burnaby, Reeve McNaught of North Vancouver district, Reeve Bowser of Point Grey, Dr. Elliott S. Rowe, Rev. Merton Smith, who acted as chairman, and councillors from all adjacent municipalities.

After the banquet, which was in every way worthy of the occasion, the chairman proposed "The King" and then called on Mayor Taylor to propose the toast to "Vancouver." His Worship said the municipalities surrounding the city were to a certain extent under the guidance of the city, and he hoped that as they came to play with the residents of that city now, so they might in the near future come to live with them.

E. S. Rowe, in responding to the toast, dealt particularly with the need for clean civic government. "There is nothing that touches the people so closely as civic government," said the speaker. "The people can get along with nearly any kind of federal or provincial government. It makes more difference to them who their councillor is than who their representative is in either of the governments may be." As to the city and the surrounding districts, they were constitutionally one municipality and a union of all into a greater Vancouver was inevitable.

Reeve Weart proposed the toast to "Greater Vancouver." Reeve Pound then proposed the toast of the evening, "The Municipality." He was of the opinion that the district spoke for itself. In three years its population had grown from 3,000 to at least 16,000 (the figures given by the recent census). In the same period one school and a sewer from a street, containing only one room to a building containing fourteen. The district possessed 150 miles of graded streets, 50 miles of macadamized roads and 250 arc lights. The total assessment was now $30,000, and in every way the district had made gigantic strides. The council had also bought a quarry on Gambier Island and bunker sites on the Fraser river. He considered it only a matter of time before the municipality would be part of the city, and said that for that reason while the roads had been built on permanent grades the roadways were not permanent, and the new municipal hall had also been constructed that if necessary it could easily be utilized as a storehouse with a dance hall or something of that nature in the top.

The other toasts of the evening were: "Our Board of Trade," proposed by C. S. Campbell and seconded by R. C. Brown; "The Church," proposed by the Rev. Mr. Fyfe; "Our Schools," proposed by G. A. Stevens; and "Our Guests," proposed by the chairman.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

New Westminster, Nov. 4.—"Not guilty of the charge of writing threatening letters" was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of John Patrick McWaters. The jury retired and after two hours' deliberation returned saying that they could not agree. The judge told them to go out once more, after an adjournment for lunch, and they returned with the verdict. On the application of W. Norman Bole, counsel for the defence, the indictment of forgery was laid over till the next assizes.

The case has been under the public eye for nearly a year, and was first brought to notice when Mrs. McWaters, wife of the accused in this case, was charged in the police court with writing threatening letters to her husband. She was elected for trial, and after a trial lasting two days, pleaded guilty, on the advice of her counsel and was allowed out on suspended sentence.

It was thought the case would rest there, but since that time there have been a series of events which ended in the arrest of Mr. McWaters, and his subsequent appearance in the Assize Court. Following the release of Mrs. McWaters, after the trial at the last assizes, several threatening letters were received by parties in Burnaby, and Mr. McWaters reported having received several threatening letters. On one occasion he also reported to the Burnaby police that his house had been broken into, himself attacked and an attempt made to set fire to the premises. On investigation it was found that there were the remains of a fire on the kitchen floor, but at the preliminary hearing it was said that it appeared that the fire had not taken place on the floor, but that the burnt wood and ashes had been placed there.

TWO BODIES RECOVERED.

Men Lost Their Lives While on Way Down the Fraser River.

Fort George, Nov. 4.—The bodies of the two young journalists who were drowned at Tete Jaune Cache have been recovered. The men were Donald C. Adams, son of J. W. Adams, publisher of the Columbia City (Indiana) Post, and Albert C. Jennings. The bodies were found eight miles below the Cache and were taken to Edmonds by J. N. Fullenwider, a friend of the Jennings family, and forwarded to the homes of the unfortunate men in Indiana.

The two travellers started from Edmonton on July 29 to make the trip to Fort George by way of the Yellowhead Pass. Tete Jaune Cache and the Fraser. They reached Tete Jaune Cache in safety and procuring a canoe started on their journey down the treacherous Fraser about August 10, but at the outset the canoe capsized and both men were drowned.

C. P. R. TRACKS ON STREETS IN KAMLOOPS

City's Case Will Be Heard by Railway Commission
When in West

Kamloops, Nov. 4.—At a meeting of the city council a letter was read from the railway commission stating that body would take up the matter of removal of C.P.R. tracks from Main street when they sat again in the west, when the city will have an opportunity to be heard. Enclosed was a copy of a letter to the commission from the C.P.R. in which it was claimed the company had absolute right on Main street, and it could hardly be expected they would abandon it without compensation. Received and filed, and the city solicitor will be instructed to prepare the city's case to lay before the commission. The council wants the railway company to deed back to the city any rights they have to Main street right-of-way.

PASTOR RESIGNS.

The Presbytery of Kamloops met in St. Andrew's church at Vernon to take action in connection with the resignation of Rev. G. Pringle. On the previous evening a congregational meeting was held at which it was unanimously resolved to urgently request Mr. Pringle to withdraw his resignation, and a committee was appointed to represent the wishes of the congregation to the matter being pressed vigorously. Mr. Pringle determined to adhere to his purpose of resigning the charge, and a motion was reluctantly passed accepting the resignation. ## City of Victoria

A complete list of Local Improvement Works, authorized by By-Law, from time to time, will be found posted on the Bulletin Board at the main entrance to the City Hall.

A BY-LAW

A By-law to raise $45,000.00 additional for the protection of the foreshore of Dallas Road.

WHEREAS by a By-law, No. 731, entitled the Dallas Road Foreshore By-law, 1910, which received the assent of the council on the 29th day of August, 1910, Debentures were ordered to be issued not exceeding in the whole the sum of $75,000, for the purpose of completing a permanent protection against the action of the sea on the foreshore beneath Dallas Road, commencing at a point approximately 700 feet easterly of where Montreal Street crosses the foreshore, and extending to the point where the foreshore is bounded by the line of the finished roadway on Dallas Road; and WHEREAS, in the said By-law it was estimated the work would cost $100,000.00, of which the City provided by the said By-law $25,000.00, and it was stated that the Province of British Columbia had agreed to provide $25,000.00;

AND WHEREAS, the latter statement was inaccurate in that the Province of British Columbia was to provide for $20,000.00 in all;

AND WHEREAS, there has been certain extra work ordered, and in order to get a solid foundation it became necessary to excavate deeper than approximate lowest tide, as mentioned in the said By-law, and for other reasons it has been found that the sum voted by the council was inadequate and that the sum necessary is necessary now to be raised for the purpose of completing the said work;

AND WHEREAS, the whole rateable land and improvements or real property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria according to the last assessment roll for the year 1911 was $2,094,717.00;

AND WHEREAS, the total amount required to be raised by rate for the purpose of the debt which will be created hereunder and the interest thereon, and for creating an annual sinking fund for the payment of the said debt within fifty years, according to law, is $2,094,717.00;

THEREFORE, the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation by way of Debentures hereinafter mentioned, for the purpose of raising a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $45,000.00, currency or sterling money, at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent. on the pound sterling, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose of making, executing and issued for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $45,000.00, either in currency or sterling money (at the rate aforesaid) each of the said Debentures being of the amount of $1,000.00 and all such Debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor in his discretion to alternatively cause each of the said Debentures to be made, executed and issued for an amount of $100 sterling, and one if necessary for a less sum in sterling money to complete the authorized issue.

4. The said Debentures shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly on the 1st day of January and the 1st day of July, at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be designated thereon, and shall have attached to each coupon for the payment of interest, and the signatures of the interest coupons may be either written, stamped, printed, lithographed or engraved.

5. It shall be lawful for the Mayor to cause the said Debentures and Interest Coupons, either or both, to be made payable at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be desired.

6. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation to dispose of the said Debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out the sum so raised by the sale of the said Debentures, all expense connected with the preparation and engraving or lithographing of the Debentures and Coupons, or any discount or commission, or other charges incidental to the sale of the said Debentures.

FOOD COMMISSION REPORT IS WANTED

Ald. Bishop Wants That Report on Cost of Living, With Cost of It

Some time ago Mayor Morley induced the city council to pass a resolution appointing a committee to inquire into the cost of living in the city. John Dean and H. F. Pullen were first requested to undertake the work, but they considered the remuneration for the task was not such to commend it to them and they declined. When this announcement was made many people thought that the work was not being undertaken at all, but Mayor Morley was not one of these. He immediately set about obtaining the services of others, and it is understood that at the present time the report on the subject is almost completed.

While no definite statement has ever been made as to who was doing the work it is generally known that much of it is being carried out by prominent ladies, all of whom are directly associated with societies operating in the city, and who are therefore believed to be in a position to obtain the required information as well as anybody else.

Most people had apparently forgotten the existence of the resolution, and its rediscovery is no doubt due to the deadlock that has occurred in civic affairs, which has prompted everyone to think of everything that his neighbor ever did or did not in the administration of civic legislation. Remembering the resolution and the cost of food commission Ald. Bishop has posted a notice of motion on the bulletin board calling for the report, together with a return from the controller as to its cost. The resolution is as follows: "That the officials appointed by his worship the mayor to bring in a report on the local price of food stuffs and pure foods be requested to bring in their report at the earliest possible date, and that the city controller submit a report to the council of all the monies paid out to the said officials to date."

FINE FOR SELLING LIQUOR APPEALED

William Preece Leaves His Evidence at Home and Cannot Proceed Before Lunch

Before Judge Lappman in the county court this morning J. A. Alkman moved, in the case of Rex against Carroll, to set aside the notice of appeal given by Estelle Carroll against the conviction and fine of $250 imposed by Magistrate Jay for selling liquor without a licence in premises at the Gorge, within the South Saanich municipality.

The appeal arises out of the raid made on the premises by the Saanich police, when charges of selling liquor and keeping a disorderly house were laid. On the latter charge a conviction was obtained and a sentence of four months given. An appeal, however, was successful in quashing the conviction.

This morning Mr. Alkman held that notice of appeal had not been given "within ten days of the finding by the magistrate," as required by statute, claiming that the word "order" in the act was intended to refer to the conviction and not to the sentence, which in this case was imposed some time after the conviction.

Judge Lappman held that notice of appeal had been properly given by Estelle Carroll in giving the notice within 10 days of the sentence. William Preece, the elderly gentleman, who is now known at the court house as the perpetual litigant, this morning had a case set before Judge Lappman against a tenant from whom he wishes to obtain rent. When the case was called Mr. Preece announced that he had left the evidence at home.

Judge Lappman said it would be as well for the plaintiff to have the evidence in court and adjourned the hearing until this afternoon.

County court dates were set for the month and judgment summonses heard.

WINNIPEG PIONEER DEAD.

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—Mrs. John O'Donoghue, who came to Winnipeg from London, Ont., in 1889, and was one of the first women settlers of this city, died here last night, aged 77. Her husband was the first agent of the Dominion Bank in the west.

ANOTHER REPORT OF FALL OF PEKIN.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6.—Further dispatches from Shanghai to the Chinese Free Press received here say that Pekin fell after 12 hours fighting, all Imperial troops except the Manchurians going over to the rebels. The regent and baby emperor were said to have escaped to the Hu river with the rest of the royal household except Prince Ching, who was captured.

The Chinese dispatches at San Francisco probably confuse the situation at Pekin with rebel successes elsewhere. Direct dispatches received by the Associated Press from Pekin today make no mention of any outbreak at the capital.

Manchu Bodyguard Routed.
Vancouver, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to the Chinese Daily News says, "Sensational broke out in the Chinese forces in the capital before the rebels secured possession of the city."

General Chang, who commanded ten thousand loyal troops in Pekin, lacked quarters for his men and camped some of them on grounds of the Imperial palace without securing permission of the authorities. This led to a fight with the Manchu bodyguard of the Emperor, in which the bodyguard commanded by Prince Tow was routed.

PREPARING FOR CAMPAIGN.

Ontario's New Liberal Leader Will Make Opening Speech at Tomorrow on November 14.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—It is likely that N. W. Rowell, the new Liberal leader, will find a safe seat in North Oxford where Dr. A. J. Macdonald, member of the House of Commons, is said to be willing to drop out of politics. His majority in 1908 was 422. J. C. Elliott, M. P. for West Middlesex and Valentin Stock, M. P. for South Perth, were approached with the suggestion that one of them should give way to the new leader but both emphatically answered "No."

The leader's manifesto is not ready for publication, but will probably be issued soon while a further opposition of the party policy will be given by Mr. Rowell at a mass meeting at Massey hall on Tuesday, November 14, which will open the Liberal campaign in Toronto.

THREE-TEAM ISLAND FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Two From Nanaimo and One
From Victoria—No Application From Ladysmith

The Vancouver Island Association Football League will be composed of three teams this season, two from Nanaimo and one from Victoria. It was thought that Ladysmith would enter, but only the two entries were received at the meeting held in Nanaimo on Saturday evening.

It is reported that the Ladysmith football players have declared their intention of becoming amateurs, but that this is the absolute truth is doubtful. According to several of the local men, who claim to be conversant with the state of football affairs in Ladysmith, the most prominent soccer men in the little island town have no intention of seeking the fold of the B. C. A. U. However that may be it is a certainty that it was not a disgust with professionalism which induced them to pull out of the B. C. League, but simply the fact that they could not get together a team.

COMPLETING SEA WALL.

Contractors Confident That Work Will Be Completed in Another Month.

Despite the fact that the appropriation for the Dallas road sea wall is nearing exhaustion and that the contractors have a by-law at present before the city council to be presented to the people for ratification on the 17th inst. for more money, the work is going ahead with as much vigor and speed as the weather conditions will permit. In fact it can be stated that the wall will be practically completed within another month if all goes well and the extra appropriation comes through.

The contractors, the Pacific Coast Construction Company, are confident of finishing the job by that time, and are in consequence anxious that the by-law granting them the extra appropriation will not roll up against a snag when it comes to be voted upon.

VISITORS TO Y. M. C. A.

Secretary of Chinese Association Coming—Dr. Sperry's Lecture Course.

The Y. M. C. A. will have two interesting visitors in the course of the next few days. At the end of the present week Frederick Gleiser, general secretary of the Canton Y. M. C. A. since 1905, will arrive and will stay for some forty-eight hours, during which he may address a meeting. He has secured the erection of new buildings in the Chinese city, the money being raised on this continent for the work. He is now engaged on deputation work in the United States, and the local association to-day received notice of his intended visit while on the Pacific coast, as it is his intention to return east through Canada.

Arrangements have also been completed for the visit of Dr. Lyman B. Sperry, who will commence his series of lectures on hygiene and health on Sunday next. The course will continue till the following Friday. The doctor is a forceful and convincing speaker, and a large attendance is expected. He will be the principal speaker at the men's meeting on Sunday afternoon.

FRASER LIGHTSHIP DRAGS ANCHORS

Goes Adrift in Gale—Probably Took Shelter Off Point
Roberts

Vancouver, Nov. 6.—At the height of the blow yesterday morning, the Fraser River lightship stationed off the Sandheads, dragged her anchor and went adrift. The crew of three men immediately got sail on and, it is believed, brought up somewhere in the lee of Point Roberts, although it was impossible to ascertain where the vessel is.

The lightship was anchored in a precarious spot for the Sandheads are notorious for bad seas in a gale from the west. The vessel has dragged frequently but she always managed to find shelter for she is very handy under canvas and the crew has foreseen for such an emergency.

Another leading mark disappeared yesterday for the screw-pile light-house has gone under. This light-house was erected years ago to mark the entrance to the Fraser and was at the time of erection on the north side of the channel. The channel, however, changed and up to yesterday it was on the south side of the entrance and had long been in disuse. There is a theory among shipping men that the light-house went adrift she bore down on the old screw-pile light-house and smashed it up.

Vessels coming in yesterday and today reported that the lightship was not on station and that the screw-pile light-house had disappeared. Gulf steamers yesterday had a rough passage. The Princess Adelaide and Princess Victoria rolled heavily and shipped water and even the liner Montague inbound from the Orient, took spray on deck across the gulf.

SIR J. CARLIN IN #### CRITICAL CONDITION

London, Nov. 6.—Sir John Carlin suffered a weak spell this morning. The attending physician states that he is sinking rapidly and that death is merely a matter of a short time.

Stricken with pneumonia on Saturday Sir John has been sinking gradually since. Some time ago he made a slight fight for his life against the same disease and the battle left him in a very enfeebled condition. Sir John is in his 84th year.

FIFTY MILLION

A YEAR IN TIPS

Commercial Travellers of United States Decide to Make Reprisals

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A campaign against tipping has been started by the Commercial Travellers of the United States. According to P. E. Dowe, president of the Commercial Travellers League, $50,000,000 is distributed by salesmen annually among bellboys, waiters and porters, in addition to $325,000,000 paid for regular hotel charges.

President Dowe has sent out to the various associations of hotel proprietors what he calls the "final call" of the travelling salesmen. In this he serves the following ultimatum: "The travelling men, forced to action by self protection and finding only one way to bring the hotel proprietors to a realization that they have underrated public sentiment against the tipping abuse, are preparing to compile lists of public houses where transients can be accommodated. For Commercial men with trunks, it is proposed to establish in the central section of each city a list of hotels, divided into light, clean showrooms."

"You can see that we mean business, but in consideration of the self-evident fact that your methods have failed properly to gauge the sentiment against tipping, we will withhold definite action a reasonable time and if there are no signs by proprietors to place their help upon a self-respecting basis, making them wage-earners instead of beggars for gratuities, no power on earth can prevent our carrying out our programme of reprisal."

LIVED DUAL LIFE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Charging her former husband, Luther H. Phipps, with living a dual life for twelve years and depriving her of her community property when she procured a divorce decree, Mrs. Sarah V. Phipps was given a decree of the Superior Court establishing her title to one half of a $400,000 property in Seattle and ordering Phipps to make an accounting for the twelve years' income. Judge Boyd T. Tallman signed the decree on the testimony of Mrs. Phipps. It is charged that her husband had sent her to Germany with her two children in 1894, ostensibly to give the children a musical education. The couple were living in Chicago at the time and the husband was often strangely absent from home. For five years the wife remained in Germany, unable to return on account of the refusal of Phipps to send her ticket money. Finally she came back with one of the children and found Phipps keeping house with his second wife.

THE LOVE TALES OF HOFFMANN

"The Love Tales of Hoffmann."

For the past four years press and public have pronounced the Sheehan English Opera Company, which appears at the Victoria to-morrow night, to be the finest singing organization in America. This season Manager Edward M. Beck has outdone all previous efforts and has surrounded his famous star, Joseph F. Sheehan, the greatest of all American tenors, with a cast of artists on the same high plane of excellence as the famous tenor himself, and with it presenting the famous comic opera success, "The Love Tales of Hoffmann," said to be the greatest comic opera the world has ever heard. The success of this wonderful opera has been phenomenal. In Europe it is all the vogue, and since the Sheehan English Opera Company has presented it in this country in English, it is creating a sensation wherever it is heard. In New York and Chicago its success has been instantaneous, and the unusual excellence of the Sheehan Opera Company has been in a large measure responsible for the extraordinary success with which this wonderful opera is meeting.

In addition to the famous tenor himself there will be heard the eminent English prima donna, Miss Gladys Caldwell, who plays the role of Olympia, the mechanical doll. Miss Caldwell's interpretation of this character is one of the greatest pieces of work ever seen on the American stage. If ever seen on the American stage. "The Love Tales of Hoffmann" this one scene alone would make it a success. This, however, is only one of the many great numbers. The third act depicts a moonlight night in Venice and is one of the most beautiful stage settings ever produced. It is at the opening of this act that the wonderful Barcarole is sung.

"When Knighthood was in Flower." An elaborate revival of "When Knighthood was in Flower" will be the splendid attraction at the Victoria theatre on Wednesday. This play is a dramatization of Charles Major's great romantic novel of the same name, and Miss Anna Day, the eminent American actress, will be seen in the stellar role of Mary Tudor, the madcap princess. The attraction has been elaborately mounted, and should draw one of the largest audiences of the city to the local theatre.

"The Country Minister." A coming attraction at the Victoria theatre is "The Country Minister," which will be played by the Western Star Dramatic Society of Victoria West on Friday next, November 10, in aid of the Victoria Protestant Orphanage. This play should once again draw a large house, as on this occasion it is being played for a very deserving charity.

This fast is as follows: Ralph Underwood, the country minister, M. L. Hardy, Gregory Heath, a gentlemanly villain, J. H. Hasenfratz, Jud Pardoe, a man who has seen better days, G. Murdock, Timothy Hodd, a little old country gentleman, A. L. Clunk; Deacon Potter, J. S. D. Cochenour; William Henry, A. E. Cave; Tom Sparrow, J. Oliver; Helen, Burleigh; Miss Friele-Hassonfratz; Perusha Jane Judkins, Miss Nellie Oliver; Roxie, who is always full of mischief, Miss Ivy Lawrie; Granny Grimes, Miss Ruth Fisher; Fanny, Miss Ethel Kennedy.

"The Country Minister" is a comedy drama in five acts, the plot is carefully laid and interests the audience from the start, while the humorous side of the play is strong and is bound to please all lovers of comedy.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Mrs. Louise Vermilya Tries to End Life by Taking Poison.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, who is accused of having murdered Policeman Bissonette by poisoning him, made a daring attempt to commit suicide by taking a mineral poison.

"It is my belief that Bissonette was given arsenic day by day, even while I was treating him, and finally he was given enough to overcome all attempts by myself and consulting physicians to stimulate him and killed without our knowing what the trouble was."

The above statement, issued by Dr. F. A. Van Arsdale, the physician who attended Mrs. Vermilya during her recent illness and who prescribed for the policeman before the latter's death.

Dr. Van Arsdale made the assertions after he had made preliminary examinations of the contents of a can supposed to contain pepper and which was used to season some food ordered by the woman Saturday, which brought on a sharp illness that at 5 p. m. threatened death and which left her in a grave condition for hours afterward.

The physician said that while he had given the woman severe treatment to counteract the effects of the poison, there still was a possibility of death because of the absorption of poison before the treatment was applied, and because of her weakened condition due to previous illness.

Mrs. Vermilya's attempt at suicide discloses the fact that only fate—and a distaste of eight persons for white pepper—prevented the possible addition of eight names to the long list of deaths that have taken place beneath the Vermilya roof under circumstances now held to be suspicious.

Four policemen, two matrons and two trained nurses who have composed the police guard over the suspected woman, with her permission, have prepared their food at the Vermilya home every day since they have been on guard. During all that time the deadly can of arsenic and pepper has stood prominently adjacent to the culinary equipment. None of the eight preferred the white pepper, however, and the black kind had been used exclusively.

THREE POISONED.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Letch and their son Don Leroy were found dead in their home in Irving Park on Saturday. Physicians declare they had died from food poisoning.

ELECTRIC HEATERS

Suitable for the Bathroom, Drawing Room, Hallway, Cold Corners, Etc.

An Electric Air Heater is a portable fire-place without a fire. The heat is furnished by three large frosted electric lamps, which throw off a cheerful warm glow. By a snap of the regulating switch either one, two or all three of these lamps can be turned on, giving a mild, medium or full heat. Behind the hot lamps is a polished copper reflector which throws the heat out and concentrates it in a direction immediately in front of the heater. It is especially neat in design and finished and will be found very useful.

The Ideal Reading Lamp

Opticians agree that the light from a good oil lamp is easier on the eyes than any other artificial light. The Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made. It gives a strong, yet soft, white light; and it never flickers. It preserves the eyesight of the young; it helps and quickens that of the old. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for other lamps, but you cannot get better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. Made of solid brass, nickel-plated. Easily lighted, without removing shade or chimney. Easy to clean and rewick.
